Planes' Near Miss Brings FFA Action

Airlines Traffic Controller Fired

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency announced Friday night an air route traffic controller at Indianapolis, Ind., had been removed from his duties in connection with the close brush of an airliner and a military plane over Kentucky during the day.

No one was injured in the latest near miss—the fourth this week. Friday's incident involved a Capital Airlines Constellation with 32 aboard and an Air Force C123 cargo plane.

Planes Over Kentucky

The planes were over Daley, Ky. Both pilots claimed they were traveling on instrument flight rules under air traffic control at the time. Both said they took evasive action to avoid a crash.

The FAA said its investigation so far has revealed "that an error in estimating position occurred in the Indianapolis Air Route Traffic Control Center. The Air Force C123 arrived over the Tri-City fix five minutes later than estimated and the succeeding estimates were not revised immediately by the assistant controller. When the controller handling the Daley, Ky., intersection rechecked the estimate, he observed the potential conflict and instantly instructed the Air Force C123 to descend. But the instructions were issued too late to maintain necessary separation.

"The controller has been removed from control duties pending a more complete investigation. He has had no previous history of control errors."

Controller Not Named

The controller was not identified by name.

The FAA said the C123 was on an instrument flight rules flight plan between Pope Air Force Base and Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The Capital Constellation was also on an instrument flight rules plan between Charleston, W. Va., and Atlanta, Ga. This put both planes under air route traffic control.

The three other near misses also are under investigation by the FAA.

Beck Released On $25,000 Bail

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Slightly ruffled but outwardly cheerful after 20 hours in jail, ex-labor leader Dave Beck was released Friday to await sentencing next Friday as a $240,000 tax evader.

"I slept just fine," said the pudgy 64-year-old former Teamsters' Union president as he was led from a city jail cell.

Beck, described in his three-month tax trial as a man of rather lavish tastes, told reporters he didn't partake of the 20-cent jail meals.

"I didn't eat any dinner," said Beck. "I got here too late for it. Besides, I wasn't hungry. I didn't eat any breakfast, either. But then I never eat breakfast."

An attorney quickly shushed Beck as he started to talk about Thursday's conviction on six counts of tax evasion in 1950-53 on which he could be sentenced to a maximum of 30 years in prison and fined up to $60,000. What ever the sentence, the defense has announced it would appeal "all the way."

U.S. Dist. Court Judge George H. Boldt, in releasing Beck, continued until the Feb. 27 sentencing on the $25,000 bond which was in effect during Beck's trial. The government didn't object.

Later efforts, he said, will be made with a space capsule already under contract, to be powered by the Atlas missile.

Dryden said space vehicles now are in about the same stage of development as the airplane was when the Wright brothers made their first flight.

Dryden said this country has the materials and the equipment that will put a man into space within a few years, but he added: "We are not willing to put a man into space until we know we can get him back safely."

Within a year or so, Dryden said an American man will "briefly escape from atmosphere" and return. He said this first U.S. step toward putting a man into orbit around the earth will be made with the Air Force experimental X15 rocketship, soon to undergo flight tests.

Later efforts, he said, will be made with a space capsule already under contract, to be powered by the Atlas missile.

Heart-To-Heart Talk

Tony Chappelle, whose heart has stopped beating six times in the last three weeks, holds a conversation over the machine which has helped his heart back into action. With him is Mrs. Mary Lieto, another heart disease victim. Chappelle, 58, is connected by a 20-foot electrical cable to the machine. When his heart stops an alarm rings and his wife starts the machine so an electrical shock can reactivate his heart. National Heart Sunday is tomorrow. (AP Photofax)

Stewardess Says Cold Feet Saved Her Life

BOSTON (UPI)—A stewardess' cold feet probably saved her life Friday when the door of an airliner opened in flight.

The door burst open minutes after the Mohawk Airlines plane with 19 passengers and three crewmembers took off from Logan Airport for upstate New York.

Pretty Toni Kostka, 19, of Weymouth, W. Va., a stewardess only two weeks, moved from her seat near the door shortly before it opened because her feet were chilled.

The two-engine DC3 was over Boston Harbor when Miss Kostka and the passengers heard the roaring swoosh of the open door swinging on its hinges.

Miss Kostka notified pilot Capt. Francis Delmar of Winthrop and First Officer John Wholly who radioed the Logan control tower for immediate clearance to return.

Fire apparatus and crash equipment were ordered along the runway but the plane landed without mishap. It took off again two-and-one-half hours after repairs to the door. Mohawk Airlines announced an immediate investigation of the door's "malfunction."

Miss Kostka said her usual seat "is right by that door." However, she had moved to a vacant passenger seat because she said her feet became cold while the plane waited 10 minutes at the end of the runway for clearance.

"When we started to take off, I moved up the aisle to the empty seat. A minute later I heard a swoosh and the door flew open," she said.

The plane was en route to Buffalo, N.Y., with scheduled stops at Worcester and Springfield and Albany, Utica, Syracuse and Rochester, N.Y.

Although the government could move to deport him to his native Italy immediately, it was expected that no action would be taken until he finishes his term.

During his first denaturalization trial in 1956, Costello volunteered to return to Italy if the government would drop its prosecution of the tax charges. The offer was rejected.

Costello is in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., serving a five-year term for evading more than $28,000 in income taxes. He has at least 18 months to serve on the sentence.

Finds Out Hard Way That Fads Fade In Hurry

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Joe Smith found out the hard way that fads fade fast.

He possessed 1,440 hoola hoops when interest in the novelty dropped to zero.

First he slashed the price to 19 cents. No takers.

Now under way is a special sale. He'll pay anyone 10 cents to accept a hoop. He's gotten rid of a few, but estimated he'll still have plenty on hand when the sale ends Saturday.

Costello Loses Citizenship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Costello, 68-year-old "prime minister of the underworld," was stripped of his American citizenship Friday because of a lie he told 34 years ago while swearing to uphold the Constitution.

Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson ruled that the dapper, frog-voiced Costello "willfully misrepresented" the facts in 1925 when he identified himself as a realtor in his application for citizenship.

Actually, the government charged, Costello was at that time a bootlegger who already had established himself as a junior executive in the underworld. The government said he also had concealed a conviction in 1915 for carrying a concealed weapon.

Since last April the country has enjoyed the longest period of comparative price stability since the monthly index was begun in 1940, the bureau pointed out. Consumer prices have not varied by more than three-tenths of 1 per cent in the nine months.

The outlook is for only minor fluctuations up or down for the next several months, Bureau Commissioner Ewan Clague told reporters Friday—unless the business recovery picks up considerably more steam than it has lately.

The upswing in food prices last month reversed a five-month decline which has helped preserve the stability of living costs. Beef, fresh vegetables, veal and poultry all went up, outweighing declines for fresh fruits, pork, coffee, eggs and milk.

Clothing prices dropped seven-tenths of 1 per cent, mostly because of seasonal sales of fall and winter apparel. Shoe prices went up.

Housing costs did not change.

Dulles Opens Fight Against Dread Cancer

Secretary Takes First Of Series In X-Ray Treatments

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles began Friday the second fight of his life against cancer. He took the first of a series of treatments under a million-volt X-ray machine at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center.

The treatments probably will continue daily, except Sunday, for three or four weeks. By the end of that period his doctors may be able to determine whether Dulles can return to active duty as secretary of state.

A medical bulletin issued by Lincoln White, press officer at the State Department, said Dulles' cancer "at the present time, as far as can be determined, is confined to the limits of the abdomen."

Rode Wheelchair

Dulles rode in a wheelchair from his quarters in Walter Reed's Ward 8 through the corridors and down an elevator to the X-ray room on the ground floor.

The bulletin said: "The initial treatment was for about one minute. Treatment was well tolerated."

The statement that the treatment was well tolerated, White said, means that Dulles was not sickened by it as some persons are. Other radiation treatments, in some cases at least, will be of longer duration up to a maximum of five minutes, White said.

Glandular Cancer

Dulles will be 72 next Wednesday. He has been in the hospital for 10 days. Tests showed he is suffering from glandular cancer.

A little more than two years ago, in November 1956, he was in Georgia.

At that time the disease section of colon was removed by surgery. In subsequent periodic examinations, doctors reported finding no evidence of a recurrence of the disease.

"The secretary continues to progress satisfactorily," Friday's bulletin said.

Man Is Held For Slaying

TJUAN, Mexico (UPI)—Police Friday arrested a 32-year-old La Puente, Calif., TV repairman for questioning in the slaying of a woman whose body was discovered in a ditch near the border.

Benjamin Lugo, chief of the Baja California State Judicial Police, said that Richard Thomas, La Puente, was taken into custody by five Mexican officers and two American police at a motel.

Lugo did not divulge all police reasons for questioning Thomas with regard to the case. But he said pieces of television wire had been used to hold a yellow bathrobe and blue woolen blanket around the portion of the woman's body.

Other portions of the body—two handless arms and two legs—were found Tuesday and Wednesday in a gully near a highway south of here.

The FBI at San Diego confirmed that it had been requested to investigate the possibility the woman—believed an American—was the long missing Mrs. Muriel Kling, 35, Fontana, Calif., sought along with her husband for a series of robberies and a scheme to kidnap crooner Bing Crosby's wife.

The kidnap plot never came off and Mrs. Kling was not found by police investigating the case.

Crewmen Escape As Plane Crashes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Pan American DC 7 carrying a three-man training crew crashed and burned Friday when it hit a rain-swept runway at International Airport. The crewmen escaped serious injury.

An official at the airport tower said the four-engine plane "burned completely."

The airliner was on a training flight and carried no passengers. The three crewmen scrambled clear of the burning wreckage before the flaming plane bounced down a second time and broke in two. They were taken to a hospital for checkups.

Ike, Mateos Talks Close Good-Will Tour

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—President Eisenhower sat down with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos again Friday for a confidential two-man review of hemisphere problems.

The session came near the end of Eisenhower's 36-hour, good-will trip south of the border.

The two president met with just an interpreter to follow up their initial talk Thursday aboard Lopez Mateos' yacht.

Eisenhower was expected to leave this hot vacation resort about midnight for a flight to Acapulco, or perhaps back to Washington if the weather is bad.

A communique summing up results of the meetings of the two chief executives was expected shortly before Eisenhower bids farewell to his host at a seaside dinner.

It was expected that the windup statement would stress that Eisenhower's visit has forged closer ties between the two neighboring countries with each understanding the other's problems better.

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos interrupted their afternoon conference for an unsuccessful effort to greet about 300 Mexican and U.S. reporters and photographers.

The move nearly precipitated a mob scene. Newsmen, tourists in wet bathing suits and hotel employees pressed around.

Both presidents, shielded carefully by their bodyguards, retreated without attempting to speak to the newsmen as had been planned.

"We just can't greet the press like this," Eisenhower was heard to mutter as he turned back to his hotel headquarters.

The throng tagged along and amid the jostling, and nudging, the U.S. President said to Lopez Mateos: "Next time let's have girl reporters."

Records Put In Jukeboxes Under Threat

Tommy Leonetti Tells Probers He Was Not Aware

WASHINGTON (AP)—Implied shooting threats and other pressures were used to try to force wide use of singer Tommy Leonetti's records in Chicago area jukeboxes, Senate investigators were told Friday.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, said young Leonetti acknowledged in an interview that "this may have been going on—by underworld figures," but that the singer said he didn't know it at the time.

Witnesses also told the committee that a distributing firm, described by Kennedy as mobster-run, has virtually taken over the business of supplying records for jukeboxes in the Chicago area.

Forced To Buy

There was testimony that jukebox operators were forced to buy from this firm—named as the Lormar Distributing Co.—and that Lormar charged them five cents a record more than they would have paid elsewhere.

Ted Sipora, a Chicago record distributor, testified that about six or seven years ago, when Leonetti was just coming up in the singing world, he was visited by a John Ambrosia. He said he knew Ambrosia as Leonetti's manager.

Sipora said that on an earlier occasion he had told both Leonetti and Ambrosia he didn't think Leonetti's records were good enough to get on jukeboxes.

During the later visit, the witness testified, Ambrosia showed disappointment because Sipora's company wouldn't buy Leonetti's records, then started flipping "what he thought was a bullet."

"He said these things can be dangerous—they can penetrate flesh," Sipora recalled, adding: "We bought some of the records."

Underworld Links

Sipora said he learned soon afterward that Ambrosia had underworld links.

Another witness, Robert Lindloff of Skokie, Ill., said a Teamsters Union official named Joseph Gimco pressured him to push a Leonetti record. Lindloff said he refused. He is president of the Music Operators of Northern Illinois, a trade group.

Lindloff did not give the record's title and no date was mentioned.

Gimco is president of Teamsters Local 777 in Chicago. He has been described in a committee report as an associate of Capone mobsters.

Chief Justice Resigns From American Bar

CHICAGO (AP)—The board of governors of the American Bar Assn. Friday accepted the resignation of Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States.

Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N.M., president of the ABA, said in a statement: "The termination of membership was in no way related to dues. The chief justice has assured me that he will cooperate with the association as he has done in the past."

Neither Warren nor officials of the bar association have made public the reasons for the resignation.

Jet Interceptor Plan Abandoned

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said Friday Canada's Arrow jet interceptor program is being abandoned because the plane is being outmoded in the missile age.

The government already has spent 400 million dollars on the Arrow jet. The swift CF105, successor to the Royal Canadian Air Force's current CF100, was built to shoot down bombers.

The Prime Minister pointed out it could not be fully operational in the RCAF before mid-1962. By that time, Diefenbaker said, "the threat from the intercontinental ballistic missile will undoubtedly be greatly enhanced in numbers, size and accuracy and the ICBM threat may be supplemented by submarine-launched missiles."

Living Costs Note One-Tenth Per Cent Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government figures showed Friday a rise of one-tenth of 1 per cent in the cost of living during January.

This meant that a lull in inflation continued, moving into its ninth month.

The living cost index was still a hairsbreadth below the record high, achieved last year.

The spendable earnings and buying power of factory workers went to the highest point of any January, although they dipped as usual from the December level.

It was the first time since the onset of the 1957-58 recession that a monthly earnings record has been set.

Except for a three-tenths of 1 per cent increase in food prices, the consumer price index would have declined last month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

At 123.8 per cent of the 1947 average, the index now stands one-tenth of a point below the peak reached in July 1958 and again in November.

Since last April the country has enjoyed the longest period of comparative price stability since the monthly index was begun in 1940. The bureau pointed out. Consumer prices have not varied by more than three-tenths of 1 per cent in the nine months.

The outlook is for only minor fluctuations up or down for the next several months, Bureau Commissioner Ewan Clague told reporters Friday—unless the business recovery picks up considerably more steam than it has had lately.

Administration officials still fear a price spurt later in the year, however.

The price report meant no wage increase for 1 1/4 million auto, aircraft and farm implement workers whose hourly scale is adjusted quarterly to the movement of the index. They have had no increase since last summer, following almost regular cost-of-living pay boosts for the previous two years.

The upswing in food prices last month reversed a five-month decline which has helped preserve the stability of living costs. Beef, fresh vegetables, veal and poultry all went up, outweighing declines for fresh fruits, pork, coffee, eggs and milk.

Clothing prices dropped seven-tenths of 1 per cent, mostly because of seasonal sales of fall and winter apparel. Shoe prices went up.

Housing costs did not change.

Dulles Opens Fight Against Dread Cancer

Secretary Takes First Of Series In X-Ray Treatments

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles began Friday the second fight of his life against cancer. He took the first of a series of treatments under a million-volt X-ray machine at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center.

The treatments probably will continue daily, except Sunday, for three or four weeks. By the end of that period his doctors may be able to determine whether Dulles can return to active duty as secretary of state.

A medical bulletin issued by Lincoln White, press officer at the State Department, said Dulles' cancer "at the present time, as far as can be determined . . . is confined to the limits of the abdomen."

Rode Wheelchair

Dulles rode in a wheelchair from his quarters in Walter Reed's Ward 8 through the corridors and down an elevator to the X-ray room on the ground floor.

The bulletin said: "The initial treatment was for about one minute. Treatment was well tolerated."

The statement that the treatment was well tolerated, White said, means that Dulles was not sickened by it as some persons are. Other radiation treatments, in some cases at least, will be of longer duration up to a maximum of five minutes, White said.

Glandular Cancer

Dulles will be 72 next Wednesday. He has been in the hospital for 10 days. Tests showed he is suffering from glandular cancer.

A little more than two years ago, in November 1956, he was first discovered to have cancer. At that time the diseased section of colon was removed by surgery. In subsequent periodic examinations, doctors reported finding no evidence of a recurrence of the disease.

"The secretary continues to progress satisfactorily," Friday's bulletin said.

Man Is Held For Slaying

TLJUANA, Mexico (UPI)—Police Friday arrested a 32-year-old La Puente, Calif., TV repairman for questioning in the slaying of a woman whose body was dismembered and pieces scattered south of this border city.

Benjamin Lugo, chief of the Baja California State Judicial Police, said that Richard Thomas, La Puente, was taken into custody by five Mexican officers and two American police at a motel here.

Lugo did not divulge all police reasons for questioning Thomas with regard to the case. But he said pieces of television wire had been used to hold a yellow bathrobe and blue woolen blanket around the portion of the woman's body.

Other portions of the body—two hands and arms and two legs—were found Tuesday and Wednesday in a gully near a highway south of here.

The FBI at San Diego confirmed that it had been requested to investigate the possibility the woman—believed an American—was the long missing Mrs. Muriel Kling, 35, Fontana, Calif., sought along with her husband for a series of robberies and a scheme to kidnap crooner Bing Crosby's wife.

The kidnap plot never came off and Mrs. Kling was not found by police investigating the case.

Crewmen Escape As Plane Crashes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Pan American DC 7 carrying a three-man training crew crashed and burned Friday when it hit a rain-swept runway at International Airport. The crewmen escaped serious injury.

An official at the airport tower said the four-engine plane "burned completely."

The airliner was on a training flight and carried no passengers. The three crewmen scrambled clear of the burning wreckage after the flaming plane bounced down a second time and broke in two. They were taken to a hospital for checkups.

Ike, Mateos Talks Close Good-Will Tour

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—President Eisenhower sat down with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos again Friday for a confidential two-man review of hemisphere problems.

The session came near the end of Eisenhower's 36-hour, good-will trip south of the border.

The two presidents met with just an interpreter to follow up their initial talk Thursday aboard Lopez Mateos' yacht.

Eisenhower was expected to leave this hot vacation resort about midnight for a flight to Augusta, Ga., or perhaps back to Washington if the weather is bad in Georgia.

A communique summing up results of the meetings of the two chief executives was expected shortly before Eisenhower bids farewell to his host at a seaside dinner.

It was expected that the windup statement would stress that Eisenhower's visit has forged closer ties between the two neighboring countries with each understanding the other's problems better.

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos interrupted their afternoon conference for an unsuccessful effort to greet about 300 Mexican and U.S. reporters and photographers.

The move nearly precipitated a mob scene. Newsmen, tourists in wet bathing suits and hotel employees pressed around.

Both presidents, shielded carefully by their bodyguards, retreated without attempting to speak to the newsmen as had been planned.

"We just can't greet the press like this," Eisenhower was heard to mutter as he turned back to his hotel headquarters.

The throng tagged along and amid the jostling, and nudging, the U.S. President said to Lopez Mateos: "Next time let's have girl reporters."

Hearings Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee advised state governors Friday that hearings will be held May 12-15 on federal-state relations in the nuclear field.

Pellston Is Nation's Unofficial Cold Spot

PELLSTON, Mich. (AP)—When on a direct circuit with the North Pellston natives discovered it was Pole. "It's because we are between two big rows of hills and the cold settles down here," says Bill Anderson, who runs the local hardware store and a gas station.

Anderson's version comes closest to matching the theories of the seven-man staff at the CAA station.

Ray Haubrick, who moved from Detroit's Willow Run Airport to Pellston in October, says he isn't as bothered by the cold in Pellston as he was in Detroit.

"You can dress for it. They call it a different kind of cold. I guess the folks are right. At least, you don't feel it so much."

Is it always "cold" Pellston? Not always—it has been above freezing twice since Nov. 1 and the mercury goes into wild gyrations when a weather front moves by. For instance—it warmed up 41 degrees in four hours Friday morning.

Records Put In Jukeboxes Under Threat

Tommy Leonetti Tells Probers He Was Not Aware

WASHINGTON (AP)—Implied shooting threats and other pressures were used to try to force wide use of singer Tommy Leonetti's records in Chicago area jukeboxes, Senate investigators were told Friday.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, said young Leonetti acknowledged in an interview that "this may have been going on—by underworld figures," but that the singer said he didn't know it at the time.

Witnesses also told the committee that a distributing firm, described by Kennedy as mobsters' run, has virtually taken over the business of supplying records for jukeboxes in the Chicago area.

Forced To Buy

There was testimony that jukebox operators were forced to buy from this firm—named as the Lormar Distributing Co.—and that Lormar charged them five cents a record more than they would have paid elsewhere.

Ted Sipora, a Chicago record distributor, testified that about six or seven years ago, when Leonetti was just coming up in the singing world, he was visited by a John Ambrosia. He said he knew Ambrosia as Leonetti's manager.

Sipora said that on an earlier occasion he had told both Leonetti and Ambrosia he didn't think Leonetti's records were good enough to get on jukeboxes.

During the later visit, the witness testified, Ambrosia showed disappointment because Sipora's company wouldn't buy Leonetti's records, then started flipping "what we thought was a bullet." "He said these things can be dangerous—they can penetrate flesh," Sipora recalled, adding: "We bought some of the records."

Underworld Links

Sipora said he learned soon afterward that Ambrosia had underworld links.

Another witness, Robert Lindeloff of Skokie, Ill., said a Teamsters Union official named Joseph Glimco pressured him to push a Leonetti record. Lindeloff said he refused. He is president of the Music Operators of Northern Illinois, a trade group.

Lindeloff did not give the record's title and no date was mentioned.

Glimco is president of Teamsters Local 777 in Chicago. He has been described in a committee report as an associate of Capone mobsters.

Chief Justice Resigns From American Bar

CHICAGO (AP)—The board of governors of the American Bar Assn. Friday accepted the resignation of Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States.

Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N.M., president of the ABA, said in a statement:

"The termination of membership was in no way related to dues. The chief justice has assured me that he will cooperate with the association as he has done in the past."

Neither Warren nor officials of the bar association have made public the reasons for the resignation.

Soviet Ahead In Race To Put Man In Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union was described by a U.S. government scientist Friday as having the capability of beating this country in the race to achieve a successful round-trip flight by man through space.

"We should prepare the American people for the fact that they are likely to do so," said Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dryden was one of several NASA officials appearing before a Senate Space subcommittee in behalf of the agency's budget requests. Congress is being asked for more than $45 million dollars to finance the civilian space program through the 12 months starting July 1, as well as an additional $8 million dollars for the rest of this year's program.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, NASA chief, predicted Thursday that the annual cost of space projects will soar into the billions after another couple of years.

Dryden said space vehicles now are in about the same stage of development as the airplane was when the Wright brothers made their first flight.

Dryden said this country has the materials and the equipment that will put a man into space within a few years, but he added: "We are not willing to put a man into space until we know we can get him back safely."

Within a year or so, Dryden said an American man will "briefly escape from atmosphere" and return. He said this first U.S. step toward putting a man into orbit around the earth will be made with the Air Force experimental X15 rocketship, soon to undergo flight tests.

Later efforts, he said, will be made with a space capsule already under contract, to be powered by the Atlas missile.

Body Of Pilot Found In Wreckage

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—The body of a Houston, Tex., pilot was found in the wreckage of his private plane about 10 miles northeast of here Friday.

Roy H. Hinson, 38, died when his single-engine Cessna - 180 went down in a wooded area early Wednesday within two miles of Wood County Airport, where he took off on a planned flight to Akron, Ohio. The plane was badly damaged but did not burn.

The plane was not reported missing until Thursday afternoon when the victim's brother, S. V. Hinson of Parkersburg, discovered the craft had not reached Akron.

Police said the little finger of his left hand was torn off when he grabbed at the bottom of the elevator as he fell.

McGee's calls for help brought policemen who lifted Hingle from the bottom of the shaft, four feet below ground level.

Railroad Bill Gets Tentative Senate Approval

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Senate gave tentative approval Friday to a bill which would require railroads to pay their employees weekly instead of semi-monthly.

An amendment was tacked onto the bill to make it effective March 1, 1960, instead of next June 1 in order to give railroads and the unions time to negotiate the requirement into their contracts if they wish.

Otherwise the proposed state law, sponsored by Sen. Bertorelli (D-Balto 1st), will call for it.

Railroad spokesmen and representatives of their workers clashed over the proposal when it was aired by the Senate's Judiciary Committee Feb. 12.

Union officials contended the present semi-monthly system makes budgeting difficult for workers and drives some of them into the hands of loan sharks. Spokesmen for the railroad said they would change to a weekly system would put a financial burden on their accounting departments.

The Senate's action was to approve a favorable report by its Judiciary Committee on the bill, along with the amendments changing the date. It will come up for passage next week.

Library's Fund Reaches $44,000

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The District of Columbia committee for the Eisenhower presidential library reported Friday it had raised $44,000 here for funds to build and equip the 3-million-dollar library in Abilene, Kan.

Robert V. Fleming, D.C. committee chairman, said more than 800 contributions were received. Similar fund-raising efforts are under way in all the states.

Forged Checks To Get Money For Pin Balls

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 29-year-old railroad switchman who forged checks to finance his addiction to pinball machines Friday received a six-month federal prison sentence.

U.S. Dist. Judge R. Jasper Smith also placed Dale Robert Kring, Kansas City, Kan., on probation for four years and ordered him to make full restitution to those who had lost money because of the nearly 100 bogus checks he had written since June 1957.

Woman Held In Bar Slaying

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—The owner of a tavern on U.S. 40 east of Baltimore was held without bail Friday on a charge of fatally wounding a man she said she loved.

Mrs. Anna DeCato, 44, said she meant to shoot the victim, Harold Wilson Joseph, 35-year-old lino operator, in the foot. The bullet struck him in the abdomen.

Mrs. DeCato told police Joseph and another man came into the tavern and asked if they could wait there while someone returned to a garage next door where his car was stored.

She said she agreed, then went into the kitchen to get herself a cup of coffee. She glanced out, she said, and saw Joseph behind the bar holding a bottle of whisky. She got a pistol from a drawer and came back to the bar area. Then the shot was fired.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Northwestern University, the Air Force Academy and University of Maryland will be represented in the finals of the persuasive speaking competition of the annual Capital Hill Debate tournament Saturday.

Space-Age Soldier To Have Special Clothes

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP)—Here's a space-age soldier for you: He wears special clothing to help protect him from any type of enemy attack. With a boost from a rocket belt strapped on his back, he climbs obstacles and jumps ditches with the greatest of ease.

In his hand is a light, all-purpose super-gun with 150 pounds of ammunition. He moves almost effortlessly with the help of zero ground pressure "creeping boots."

Science fiction comes? Not on your life! Straight talk from the Army's chief of combat development.

These things will be coming much more into focus about 1970, Maj. Gen. Harry W. Johnson said today. It's all on the drawing boards right now, he said, and the Army has found it "completely feasible."

Gen. Johnson is deputy chief of staff of the Continental Army Command at Fort Monroe, Va.

He spoke behind closed doors at a special briefing for 250 officers and key civilian employees at the Army Chemical Center here. Most of what he said is classified. The Army, however, gave out this much:

"The soldier of the future will wear headgear much like a football helmet," said Gen. Johnson. Equipped with a tiny radio effective for ranges well over 1,000 yards, the helmet will have a removable front panel to protect the wearer against chemical, biological or radiological attack.

If this super soldier needs shelter in a hurry, he will strip a pencil like "automatic foxhole digger" from his suit, ram it into the ground, detonate it and jump into the hole.

The combat soldier probably will travel in an airpacer, a saucer-like vehicle which can move easily in any direction or hover motionless in place.

When there's a lull in the action, he will sit down to a tasty dinner of irradiated food, carried in a small flat pack similar to today's frozen dinners.

Ford Takes Trip To South America

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Ford II left Friday by plane on a business trip to Brazil and Argentina—his first trip to South America.

The president of the Ford Motor Co. said he would meet with Argentine officials concerning a proposal for his company to build trucks as well as tractors under a program originally specifying tractors only.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains rallied from Thursday's break and closed firm for most deferred and steady for nearby contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up  $\frac{1}{2}$  cent, oats up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, rye up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, soybeans off  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, corn (old) off  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, soybeans off  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, oats up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, rye up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, soybeans off  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, corn (old) off  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent.

In a quiet trading day, prices settled down after breaking on all crops in the previous session. Indications were that traders were awaiting developments over the extended week end ahead.

Wheat ranged near the previous closing level until increased bid buying pushed March up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent and May  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent. Some export hedge lifting was another firming factor. Yugoslavia took 465,000 bushels of red wheat.

No sales were reported in spot trade. In corn, business was concerned with holding the line. Cash houses were on both sides of the market. March and May positions dropped slightly about  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  cent, but July and September pocketed a small  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent gain. Spreaders and local cash took new March and Northwest houses wanted new May.

Oats never strayed far from its opening March and May went up  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, July and September off the same fraction. Distant November soybeans jumped  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent, as March lost  $\frac{1}{4}$  cent. Other positions were steady.

Grains at outside markets were steady. The range:

Stocks At Last Crack

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new entry went down in market record books when stocks at long last cracked the formidable 600-mark Friday in the industrial average. They did it in style. Individual gains of 2 to 3 points were commonplace, and volume was stepped up to the best level in three weeks—4,190,000 shares compared with 4,160,000 Thursday.

While rail and utility issues failed to keep pace with industrials, their gains were sufficient to bring a 2.5-billion dollar rise in the value of all listed shares. Should penetration of the 600-level extend to 10 points or more, some of the experts felt, the market might achieve another substantial gain.

The Friday rise, climaxing a three-session gain, lifted the industrial average 7.17 points to 602.21, some 4.55 points above the previous high of 597.66 established on Jan. 21.

Gains appeared in virtually all groups with the chemicals particularly strong. Allied Chemical gained close to 4 points while DuPont, Eastman and Union Carbide added more than 2 points.

Your Mirrored Self

If you've never caught yourself talking to yourself, try it now — out loud and in front of your mirror. Try it for ten minutes. Well, what did you find? See any mannerisms or unconscious facial expressions that might detract from your good looks . . . or subtract from the meaning of your conversation?

You are lucky if you didn't. Most people have some and you can bet your best hat that when you see a girl with a wrinkled-up forehead or a frowning brow, she isn't nearly as cross as she looks. She's probably completely unaware that she looks that way. She'd be shocked if she realized how false an impression of herself she creates.

If you want to be fair to yourself, now's the time to eliminate any defacing grimace. You can do that the second after you discover it! The whole trick is in learning what it is.

So talk to your mirror, and keep on talking, ten minutes at a time. Let your mirror be your severest critic and talk right back. At the beginning of this one-woman conversation, you may find you're so self-conscious that your face goes completely dead-pan. But that's not what you're after! A blank face has even less charm and interest than one that "emotes" with every feature.

All you want to do is to remove the habitual frown, wrinkle, pout and scowl from your expression. And you can do this by talking to your mirror for a few minutes every day until you learn to use only your eyes, voice and smile to express what's in your mind. It's the same kind of self-training that all actresses and models must do and give themselves when they want to star in the art of clearly expressing thought and emotion without destroying their own beauty.

Your voice, of course, is as important as your appearance when you speak. So why not find out, too, how you can improve the tonal quality and charm of your voice. I suggest you write to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this paper, for a copy of "Your Most Attractive Voice." The booklet is 10c — and please enclose also a stamped, return envelope.

Even experienced cooks will be delighted with the idea of making hollandaise sauce ahead and holding it in a wide-mouthed vacuum jar until serving time.

District 16 To Renovate Fire Hall

A discussion on having the kitchen of the District 16 fire hall remodeled and painted, and to have the hall cleaned and painted featured the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of District 16 Thursday evening. The auxiliary offered to purchase the paint and the firemen volunteered to do the work. It is expected to get under way the first part of next week. The meeting was opened with Mrs. Charlotte Shoemaker reading the Scripture.

Two representatives were chosen to attend the spring conference, which will be held in Earlleigh Heights, sometime in April. They are Mrs. Alma Wilt and Mrs. Martha Kullenax.

A check for $100 was presented to the firemen by the auxiliary.

Concluding the evening refreshments were served. Mrs. Madeline Adams and Mrs. Mary Siler were hostesses. The next meeting will be held March 2 at 7:30 at the fire hall.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY?

Who said there is no such thing as juvenile delinquency?

Look at the record! Millions of boys and girls under twenty-one in trouble with the police—dope traffic among teen-agers—organized crime by minors.

But this is not always juvenile delinquency. This is often the tragedy of ADULT DELINQUENCY. It is frequently the result of neglect, indifference, and lack of Christian training in our homes. It is the failure of parents that has led to the wreckage of many of these young lives.

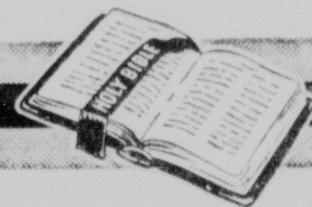

Bring your child to Sunday School and Church. Give him the spiritual care that he wants and needs. Remember, Mother and Dad, we cannot always say, "juvenile delinquency." Be sure it is not your failure which may cause your child to ruin his life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY?

Who said there is no such thing as juvenile delinquency?

Look at the record! Millions of boys and girls under twenty-one in trouble with the police—dope traffic among teen-agers—organized crime by minors.

But this is not always juvenile delinquency. This is often the tragedy of ADULT DELINQUENCY. It is frequently the result of neglect, indifference, and lack of Christian training in our homes. It is the failure of parents that has led to the wreckage of many of these young lives.

Bring your child to Sunday School and Church. Give him the spiritual care that he wants and needs. Remember, Mother and Dad, we cannot always say, "juvenile delinquency." Be sure it is not your failure which may cause your child to ruin his life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Auto Makers Battle Smog

Automobile makers aren't accepting complete responsibility for Los Angeles' smog nor lesser similar problems elsewhere. But the industry is now spending more than a million dollars a year in research aimed at making automobiles fume-free.

Detroit is preparing to start a delegation to Los Angeles to carry the word of what is being done in exhaust-suppression research. No doubt a proposal before the California legislature for a heavy tax on autos not equipped with anti-smog devices helped crystallize plans for the Detroit delegation to the coast.

The Wall Street Journal reveals there are three promising exhaust killers under development, with a Ford Motor Co. design, reported to be 60-to-70 per cent effective, appearing to be the best so far. Even so, researchers believe that a fool-proof device is years away.

Efforts so far have generally centered on after-burners to destroy exhaust gases and devices to use catalysts for turning gases into harmless products. The Ford product, a catalyst built into a muffler unit and with a life expectancy of only 10,000 miles, would cost about $150.

The crack that Los Angeles needs "filter-tipped people" is hardly funny in the West Coast city. Smog there is a serious matter—many would call it a "menace."

And elsewhere complaints against increasing fumes along many of the busy highways are certain to generate enough added pressure to keep Detroit on the trail of some effective and practical device.

The Communist Lawyers

The House Committee on Un-American Activities has issued a very interesting and significant report on Communist lawyers and their activities. What comes out of this clearly is that just as some lawyers specialize in smelly but lucrative divorce cases and others specialize in advising rich thieves on how to evade SEC regulations and income tax laws, so other lawyers specialize in how the Communists may destroy the United States under its own laws.

A lawyer is a sworn officer of the Court. He has taken an oath to uphold the Constitution. If he is a member of the Communist Party, he is required to be an atheist. Therefore, his oath is no good because he has his fingers crossed when he takes it. The Committee makes this point clearly:

"A Communist operates under an iron discipline which places his party's subversive purposes above even professional and personal loyalties. No Communist, therefore, can in good faith take the oath, administered to all members of the bar, to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States . . ."

Some persons joined the Communist Party in the 1930s as a protest against Hitler. Some stayed in the party during World War II to aid our "ally," Soviet Russia. What is any American's excuse for remaining in this party today except that he hates the United States? Under our Constitution, an American citizen has a legal right to hate the United States, but does he have a moral right to remain in this country, to take advantage of the freedom he enjoys under the Constitution and then devote his life to the destruction of the country in the interest of another nation? In time of war, such conduct could be treason; in time of peace, it is called subversion and is protected by Supreme Court decisions.

The worst example of planned, disruptive activity on the part of such lawyers is described in the Committee's report:

"The behavior of defense counsel in the Smith Act trial of the 11 top Communist Party officials in New York in 1949 was in complete accord with the Communist Party courtroom strategy outlined above.

"Throughout the 7-month trial of the Communist leaders charged with conspiracy to advocate forcible overthrow of the United States Government, a group of defense lawyers indulged in a spectacular display of abusive and disruptive conduct. These lawyers, it became apparent, were determined to break up the legal proceedings by any means and to introduce Communist propaganda at every opening as long as the trial should continue. In pursuing these tactics, counsel were observed to pass up actual opportunities to benefit their clients' case. Presiding Judge Harold Medina declared at one point in the trial that 'The amount of disorder and contemptuous behavior I have witnessed here is beyond anything I could have thought possible in an American court.'"

These lawyers acted according to a pattern which was so uniform that it is impossible to believe that it was not premeditated and arranged. The object clearly was to bring the American court, our judicial system contemptuously before the world. Only the unbelievable patience of Judge Harold Medina prevented these graduates of American colleges and law schools from succeeding.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities in this report cites the National Lawyers Guild as a Communist Party appendage and calls attention to the fact that the Guild campaigned for the following:

- "1. Abolition of Congressional committees assigned to the task of coping with subversion in the United States;
- "2. Curbing of the investigative powers of the Federal Bureau of Investigation;
- "3. Emasculation of the recent statute which grants immunity to any witness called before a committee or a Federal grand jury if the witness furnishes information regarding subversive activities;
- "4. Repeal of the Smith Act prohibiting teaching in advocacy of forcible overthrow of the United States Government;
- "5. Discontinuance of the Attorney General's listings of subversive organizations;
- "6. Repeal of the Internal Security Act and the Walter-McCarran Immigration Act;
- "7. Unrestricted issuance of passports to subversive individuals;
- "8. Repeal of the Federal employees loyalty-security program;
- "9. Limitations on the right of the Defense Department to discharge subversives from the Armed Forces."

This pamphlet includes the names and biographies of the principal Communist lawyers of the United States. It is a document worth reading by those who do not believe that the Communist Party in the United States died with Stalin.

Seems An Easy Decision To Make

Allies Must Be Ready To Fight For Berlin

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Dictator Khrushchev isn't scaring anybody here with his blustering statement that any attempt by the Allies to break through to Berlin by land, sea or air would be met by force.

President Eisenhower has countered with the simple declaration that the United States and the Western powers will continue to carry out their "responsibilities" under the 1945 wartime agreement and that "it will be the other side, if there is going to be any force," which will have to use it "to block our carrying out our responsibilities."

These are serious words from the President of the United States. No further authority is needed from Congress, moreover, to resist an attack on the American troops stationed in West Berlin or in the approaches to that city. For it is written in the North Atlantic Treaty, as ratified by the U.S. Senate, that any attack on a member state or its forces—which includes West Berlin—can be considered an attack on all the Western powers, including the United States. Congress has, therefore, already authorized the use of the armed forces of the United States to repel attack.

The President made it clear that the United States would not initiate any fighting. He said to his press conference:

"He (Khrushchev) must be talking about shooting to stop us from doing our duty. After all, that is what is going to happen if it happens. We are not saying that we are going to shoot our way into Berlin. We say we are just going to go and continue carrying out our responsibilities to those people and the ones that we agreed to undertake way back in 1945. So that if we are stopped, it will be somebody else using force."

The President performed a service to world peace by making it clear that the United States will not fail to resist any attack on the Western Allied military forces as they pursue their rights under the 1945 agreement. That agreement was adopted when the men of the armed forces of the United States and her Western Allies were completing the job of saving the Russian people from possible conquest by Hitler's armies.

It seems a brazen piece of ingratitude for the dictator in the Kremlin to demand now that West Berlin be given up to whomsoever the Moscow government says shall occupy it, thus disregarding the interallied agreement altogether. Certainly, unless consent is given by all the partners in the war, the territory of West Berlin should remain in its present status.

Any attempt to alter that status by force becomes an attack by the Soviet Union on the Western Allies. This would mean the beginning of a war, and it seems incredible that Dictator Khrushchev would take such a risk.

It may be that Khrushchev thinks the Western Allies will not stand together and would not risk a war. But that is the kind of miscalculation which the Communist leaders in Moscow should never make. For, if fighting breaks out in the vicinity of West Berlin, it could result in a revolution inside East Germany and in some other satellite countries as well as inside the Soviet Union itself. The peoples behind the Iron Curtain do not want war. That's why it is so important to make clear before all the world that it is the head of the Soviet regime who today is deliberately planning to initiate war.

Some of the same menacing maneuvers were made by Red China just before opening a bombardment on Quemoy and Matsu a few months ago. But President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles stood firm, and the Communists have not risked an attack on Formosa, which Congress has, by resolution, pledged the United States to defend.

The United States is not going to be bluffed by either Peking or Moscow. To make sure the Communists understand this, it has been necessary, as Mr. Dulles once said, to be ready to go "to the brink of war." This has been cynically referred to as "brinkmanship," but it works. It is a manifestation of resoluteness that prevents war. Vacillation, on the other hand, breeds war by encouraging the mistaken belief that one side will not fight if attacked. Then, when disillusion comes, war is already underway. So it is much better to say in advance explicitly what will or will not be done in a given contingency.

The feeling here is that the Soviets will not risk war but will talk about it in the hope of forcing surrender. Firmness and unity on the Allied side were never more important. This applies also to those well-intentioned members of Congress whose words, implying a readiness to make concessions, are taken abroad to be a sign of weakness. This is one time above all others when the Executive Branch should do the talking and the Legislative Branch should, if it speaks at all, uphold the hands of the President and the Secretary of State.

(Copyright, 1959, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — One possible avenue to a solution of the Berlin crisis was tipped off recently by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. Its significance as possibly acceptable to the West stems from the fact that Brandt voiced it immediately on the heels of State Secretary John Foster Dulles' visit to Western European capitals in search of a common approach to the crisis.

Brandt suggested that the West might deal with the East German regime as "agents" of the Soviet Union on the all-important question of continued access to the city. Russia has served notice that she will turn over her wartime occupation rights to East Germany around May 1, and has asked the Allied powers to do likewise in their occupied zones in West Berlin.

Only time will tell, but it is even now apparent that if Russia accepts such an arrangement, it will be a face-saving device for the Soviet leaders, who, up to now, have been adamant in their insistence on withdrawal and direct dealings between the West and the East German regime.

Hospitalized Children, And How They React

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Going to the hospital is likely to upset small children. This is understandable, because tots are closer to their parents and thrive on their comforting presence and manifestations of love.

After the child is admitted, a variety of reactions can be expected. Some are unaffected and appear to settle down happily. Others cry constantly and call out for mother. This behavior is accentuated when parents get ready to go home, after visiting the youngster.

Other types are subdued and quiet most of the time and cry only when the physician or nurse approaches or when the parents arrive. Appetite decreases during hospitalization, and weight loss may occur from this cause. Some develop behavior problems such as bedwetting or aggressiveness, particularly after a prolonged stay.

Despite these reactions it is difficult to tell what the child is thinking. Dr. R. S. Illingworth, of England, believes small children are not altogether convinced that their hospital stay is only temporary. He never tells them they can go home tomorrow unless it is true. He remembers the remark of a small boy who was told this and said, "Doctor, when will it be tomorrow?" This boy had a bone infection and had been told repeatedly that he "could go home tomorrow."

The best behaved children in a hospital are those who are emotionally secure and know what to expect. They come from homes where the parent-child relationship is tops. These youngsters know they are loved and that their parents will take care of them. Daily visiting is the rule, even though the child may be upset when Mother and Dad leave, but this is more than offset by the benefits received from seeing them.

A child who is old enough to understand should be told what to expect after he goes into the hospital. Mention the uniforms the nurses wear and the instruments the physicians use. Except for emergency hospitalization, the youngster should be told of the plans two or three days in advance, to give him time to think it over. Let him bring from home a toy or blanket of which he is especially fond.

CONVULSIONS

R. B. C. writes: Until my son was 6 years old, every time he developed fever he had a convulsion. He is now 13 and has not had such a seizure in years. Do you think I have epilepsy?

REPLY

I doubt it because it is not unusual for children to develop a convulsion at the onset of an infection. Adults generally develop a chill in the same circumstances. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on convulsions.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return postage envelope is enclosed. Telephone stamps not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Strauss Should Be Cross-Examined Before Appointment Is Confirmed

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A lot of people have been wondering how the United States of America, with its vast resources of money, brains and private initiative, let itself fall behind Russia on missiles and satellites.

Part of the inside story could be unfolded next week—if Senators are persistent enough—when they consider the confirmation of the man who once headed the Atomic Energy Commission, Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, to be the new Secretary of Commerce.

For it was Admiral Strauss who instigated the purge which knocked Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, developer of the A-bomb, out of government. With his exit, scores of other scientists got discouraged or quit government altogether.

"Scientists are individualists," said Dr. Harold Urey, Nobel Prize winner and discoverer of the hydrogen atom of atomic weight 2. "They are considered queer people. But they will not be regimented. They cannot be ordered to make certain discoveries. We will never know how many scientists were dissuaded from working for the government or how many discoveries remained undiscovered by the purging of Robert Oppenheimer."

The general fact that Oppenheimer's great brain was lost to government because Admiral Strauss did not approve his free-thinking ideas is already well known. But the purge trial which evicted Oppenheimer was held behind closed doors, with Roger Robb, later counsel for Bernard Goldfine, acting as chief prosecutor. Though a censored version of the transcript was later published, the public has never got a detailed picture of what happened at that purge trial.

The Senators who cross-examine Admiral Strauss regarding his qualifications to be Secretary of Commerce could develop this if they wanted to. However, Senators seldom do their homework for these confirmation hearings and chairman Warren Magnuson, the popular, easygoing Senator from Washington, will probably let the Admiral off with a kiss and a promise.

The Subs For Benson

The audience didn't know it, but the speech President Eisenhower delivered to the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association last week was actually one which Secretary of Agriculture Benson had intended to deliver. The REA co-ops, however, wouldn't invite Benson to speak.

Benson did his best to wangle an invitation but the Rural Electric co-ops love him about as much as they do the big utilities. He has slashed their loan program and forced them to go to private banks for high-interest loans. So no invitation was forthcoming.

As a last resort, however, Benson persuaded Eisenhower to ask for an invitation. Previously, Ike had refused to address the convention, but at Benson's urging he reversed himself and asked to be invited. The co-ops could hardly turn down the President and offered to put him on the program either Monday or Tuesday.

However, Jim Hagerty saw a chance to undercut a Democratic candidate for President and insisted Ike be given the spot previously reserved for Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts. But instead of cancelling Kennedy's speech, the co-ops gave him twin-billing with Ike. This nettled the President considerably but he dutifully showed up and read Benson's speech to the convention.

Note—When he entered the convention hall, Ike was given a courteous and reasonably enthusiastic reception. After he had delivered his speech defending high interest rates for REA co-ops he got only a trickle of applause. Kennedy got a tremendous ovation.

Adlai's "Woman"

Adlai Stevenson, the nation's most publicized grass widower, got the surprise of his life when he walked into the home of Mrs. Florence Mahoney in Washington after a Democratic Advisory Committee meeting.

As he stepped into the living room he was confronted with every lady with whom his name has been romantically rumored since he became eligible—all beautiful, all single. They included: Mrs. Kay Denckla of Washington and Hobe Sound, Fla.; Katherine Halle of Cleveland department store fame;

The Takeover

By Leslie Gould

All that is needed to gain control of a Stock Exchange listed company is nerve. A little cash—but not too much—also helps.

Credit can always be obtained on promises to eager speculators of a quick, low taxed profit.

There are a half dozen Stock Exchange firms—all known to the Exchange—that will lend a hand or have a customers man willing to do so.

Alexander L. Guterman, the financial mystery man now figuring in the news, has in recent years picked up three Stock Exchange listed companies.

Investors in all three of these ventures, as well as those in the Over-the-Counter market have suffered losses running into the millions of dollars.

This column first publicized Guterman's financial operations as far back as 1956.

His last big deal for control of a Stock Exchange listed company F. L. Jacobs—was in that year. His two earlier takeovers were United Dye & Chemical and Bon Ami. He got out of United Dye and Bon Ami in 1957.

Prior to that his main activities were in Over-the-Counter securities and he had a large Over-the-Counter firm—McGrath Securities.

Here is the "case history" on his takeover of the Jacobs company.

Three years before he became interested in this onetime leading Michigan auto parts manufacturer, the Jacobs family were kicked out in a proxy fight. The winners were a New York group.

Shareholders were aroused over large losses and involvement of some of its principals in the RFC loan scandal. Rex Jacobs, whose family had founded the business 40 years before, had loaned without directors' approval from the company's treasury $120,000 to E. Merl Young, one of the central figures in the RFC loan and mink coat scandal.

Some time after that a group headed by Frank E. Howard

Nan McAvoy, whose family owns the San Francisco Chronicle; Dorothy Fosdick, daughter of clergyman-philosopher Harry Emerson Fosdick; and Jane McBaine, glamorous Washington socialite.

Adlai gasped a little when he saw the roomful, then remarked: "I need reinforcements. Call Averell."

Mrs. Denckla went to the phone to get Averell Harriman, former Governor of New York, also in Washington for the Democratic Advisory Committee meeting. Harriman is the man Stevenson defeated for the Presidential nomination after a hot battle in Chicago, but he wanted help from Harriman in his current predicament just the same. Averell, however, was not to be found.

Later, Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and Clayton Fritchey, publisher of the Northern Virginia Sun, dropped in. By that time Adlai seemed to be getting along famously with what he called "my women."

Mr. K. Eyes Scandinavia—Val Petersen, ex-Governor of Nebraska, now Ambassador to Denmark, has cabled Washington that Premier Khrushchev has a significant motive behind his trip to the Scandinavian countries. He wants to neutralize Scandinavia and then take control of the Baltic Sea. The Russians have stepped up the pressure on Denmark and Norway to pull out of NATO and bar American planes from their airfields. When Mikoyan stopped in Copenhagen on his way home from the United States, he combined pressure with persuasion on the Danes to return to neutrality. Khrushchev, according to Ambassador Petersen, will follow the same line.

Mercurial Commissioner—AEC Commissioner W. F. Libby has been calling and cancelling meetings like a prima donna in his campaign to resume nuclear testing. His strategy is to urge tests for Operation Plowshare which is supposed to experiment with nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes. However, his supposedly peaceful program is being conducted by the Division of Military Application, staffed 90 per cent by military men, and Congress may ask questions about it.

Libby's actions may have been tied in with his resignation, just submitted, effective June 30.

J. Edgar Hoover's Diet

Republican Sen. Alex Wiley and Democratic Congressman Gerald Flynn, both from Wisconsin and both bulging around the middle, compared girths the other day.

When Flynn's bay window protruded the most, Wiley offered him some diet advice. The Senator pointed out that FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover had acquired a bulge around his waist, but had trimmed down by dieting.

Wiley suggested that Flynn call the G-man and ask for the FBI diet. Wiley made it clear, however, that he would admire Hoover's athletic build from afar. He had no intention of following the diet himself.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"Posh" is a very British word indeed, defined by Webster as "smart and elegant in appearance." Know its origin? Well, in the good old days, when British aristocrats were boarding ships to go and rule India, the legend was that they should book cabins on the port side on the way out (thereby getting the shady side on the hot trip through the Suez Canal) and, by the same token, nail down starboard cabins on the way home. In other words, "Port Outside, Starboard Home," and the abbreviation, P.O.S.H., became identified with the top dogs of the foreign service. All clear?

Mr. Haydn's wife left the house to take the family car out of the garage. A moment later he heard a horrendous crash. "Did you knock it down?" he called fearfully. "No," she called back, "just over."

Auto Makers Battle Smog

Automobile makers aren't accepting complete responsibility for Los Angeles' smog nor lesser similar problems elsewhere. But the industry is now spending more than a million dollars a year in research aimed at making automobiles fume-free.

Detroit is preparing to start a delegation to Los Angeles to carry the word of what is being done in exhaust-suppression research. No doubt a proposal before the California legislature for a heavy tax on autos not equipped with anti-smog devices helped crystallize plans for the Detroit delegation to the coast.

The Wall Street Journal reveals there are three promising exhaust killers under development, with a Ford Motor Co. design, reported to be 60-to-70 per cent effective, appearing to be the best so far. Even so, researchers believe that a fool-proof device is years away.

Efforts so far have generally centered on after-burners to destroy exhaust gases and devices to use catalysts for turning gases into harmless products. The Ford product, a catalyst built into a muffler unit and with a life expectancy of only 10,000 miles, would cost about $150.

The crack that Los Angeles needs "filter-tipped people" is hardly funny in the West Coast city. Smog there is a serious matter—many would call it a "menace."

And elsewhere complaints against increasing fumes along many of the busy highways are certain to generate enough added pressure to keep Detroit on the trail of some effective and practical device.

The co-ops could hardly turn down the President and offered to put him on the program either Monday or Tuesday.

However, Jim Hagerty saw a chance to undercut a Democratic candidate for President and insisted Ike be given the spot previously reserved for Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts. But instead of cancelling Kennedy's speech, the co-ops gave him twinning with Ike. This nettled the President considerably but he dutifully showed up and read Benson's speech to the convention.

Note—When he entered the convention hall, Ike was given a courteous and reasonably enthusiastic reception. After he had delivered his speech denouncing high interest rates for REA co-ops he got only a trickle of applause. Kennedy got a tremendous ovation.

Adlai's "Women"

Adlai Stevenson, the nation's most publicized grass widower, got the surprise of his life when he walked into the home of Mrs. Florence Mahoney in Washington after a Democratic Advisory Committee meeting.

As he stepped into the living room he was confronted with every lady with whom his name has been romantically rumored since he became eligible—all beautiful all single. They included: Mrs. Jack Denckla of Washington and Hobe Sound, Fla.; Katherine Halle of Cleveland department store fame;

Nan McAvoy, whose family owns the San Francisco Chronicle; Dorothy Fosdick, daughter of clergyman-philosopher Harry Emerson Fosdick; and Jane McBaine, glamorous Washington socialite.

Adlai gasped a little when he saw the roomful, then remarked: "I need reinforcements. Call Averell."

Mrs. Denckla went to the phone to get Averell Harriman, former Governor of New York, also in Washington for the Democratic Advisory Committee meeting. Harriman is the man Stevenson defeated for the Presidential nomination after a hot battle in Chicago, but he wanted help from Harriman in his current predicament just the same. Averell, however, was not to be found.

Later, Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and Clayton Fritchey, publisher of the Northern Virginia Sun, dropped in. By that time Adlai seemed to be getting along famously with what he called "my women."

Mr. K. Eyes Scandinavia—Val Petersen, ex-Governor of Nebraska, now Ambassador to Denmark, has cabled Washington that Premier Khrushchev has a significant motive behind his trip to the Scandinavian countries. He wants to neutralize Scandinavia and then take control of the Baltic Sea. The Russians have stepped up the pressure on Denmark and Norway to pull out of NATO and bar American planes from their airfields. When Mikoyan stopped in Copenhagen on his way home from the United States, he combined pressure with persuasion on the Danes to return to neutrality. Khrushchev, according to Ambassador Petersen, will follow the same line.

Mercurial Commissioner—AEC Commissioner W. F. Libby has been calling and cancelling meetings like a prima donna in his campaign to resume nuclear testing. His strategy is to urge tests for Operation Plowshare which is supposed to experiment with nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes. However, his supposedly peaceful program is being conducted by the Division of Military Application, staffed 90 per cent by military men, and Congress may ask questions about it.

Libby's actions may have been tied in with his resignation, just submitted, effective June 30.

J. Edgar Hoover's Diet

Republican Sen. Alex Wiley and Democratic Congressman Gerald Flynn, both from Wisconsin and both bulging around the middle, compared girths the other day.

When Flynn's bay window protruded the most, Wiley offered him some diet advice. The Senator pointed out that FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover had acquired a bulge around his waist, but had trimmed down by dieting. Wiley suggested that Flynn call the G-man and ask for the FBI diet. Wiley made it clear, however, that he would admire Hoover's athletic build from afar. He had no intention of following the diet himself.

The Takeover

By Leslie Gould

All that is needed to gain control of a Stock Exchange listed company is nerve. A little cash—but not too much—also helps.

Credit can always be obtained on promises to eager speculators of a quick, low taxed profit.

There are a half dozen Stock Exchange firms—all known to the Exchange—that will lend a hand or have a customers man willing to do so.

Alexander L. Guterman, the financial mystery man now figuring in the news, has in recent years picked up three Stock Exchange listed companies.

Investors in all three of these ventures, as well as those in the Over-the-Counter market have suffered losses running into the millions of dollars.

This column first publicized Guterman's financial operations as far back as 1956.

His last big deal for control of a Stock Exchange listed company, F. L. Jacobs—was in that year. His two earlier takeovers were United Dye & Chemical and Bon Ami. He got out of United Dye and Bon Ami in 1957.

Prior to that his main activities were in Over-the-Counter securities and he had a large Over-the-Counter firm—McGrath Securities.

Here is the "case history" on his takeover of the Jacobs company.

Three years before he became interested in this onetime leading Michigan auto parts manufacturer, the Jacobs family were kicked out in a proxy fight. The winners were a New York group.

Shareholders were aroused over large losses and involvement of some of its principals in the RFC loan scandal. Rex Jacobs, whose family had founded the business 40 years before, had loaned without directors' approval from the company's treasury $120,000 to E. Merl Young, one of the central figures in the RFC loan and mink coat scandal.

Some time after that a group headed by Frank E. Howard gained control. This group sold out their stock to Guterman and his associates in 1956 and he took over on March 1 without a stockholder's vote.

Howard and his family sold 27,858 Jacobs shares at $9 a share, Philip H. Handmaker, who had resigned as a Jacobs director January 24, 1956, sold 25,600 shares at $11 a share. His brother, Isadore Handmaker, sold 3,300 shares at the same price and their investment company 6,100 shares at $11. James H. Towey, a director, sold 3,000 shares at $11.

These shares totaled 65,858, or 74 per cent of the 882,607 shares outstanding.

When the next annual meeting of the Jacobs shareholders rolled around on December 17, 1956, the Guterman crowd were in control and remained so until his sudden resignation February 13, when he became seriously embroiled with the SEC.

Guterman took down 27,858 of the shares bought from the Howards, the Handmakers and Towey.

Among others in the take over group were Hyman D. Lehrich, a New York attorney and at the time a director of United Dye and Bon Ami; and Virgil D. Dardi, then president of United Dye, who had gotten out of Blair & Co. in a row over his participation in a deal in Stanwell Oil & Gas, which involved Serge Rubinstein, later murdered. Lehrich introduced Guterman to Howard.

The controlling group has changed some since then, and before Guterman lost his control to the money lenders his "stake" in Jacobs totaled 150,000 shares.

Jacobs has fared poorly in the market since Guterman's takeover. It closed 1956 at 4.12 1/2 and the next year at $5. Last trade on the Stock Exchange before its suspension in December was 7.87 1/2. This compares to the $9 to $11 a share paid the former controlling shareholders for their stock in '56.

Hospitalized Children, And How They React

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Going to the hospital is likely to upset small children. This is understandable, because tots are closer to their parents and thrive on their comforting presence and manifestations of love.

After the child is admitted, a variety of reactions can be expected. Some are unaffected and appear to settle down happily. Others cry constantly and call out for mother. This behavior is accentuated when parents get ready to go home, after visiting the youngster.

Other types are subdued and quiet most of the time and cry only when the physician or nurse approaches or when the parents arrive. Appetite decreases during hospitalization, and weight loss may occur from this cause. Some develop behavior problems such as bedwetting or aggressiveness, particularly after a prolonged stay.

Despite these reactions it is difficult to tell what the child is thinking. Dr. R. S. Illingworth, of England, believes small children are not altogether convinced that their hospital stay is only temporary. He never tells them they can go home tomorrow unless it is true. He remembers the remark of a small boy who was told this and said, "Doctor, when will it be tomorrow?" This boy had a bone infection and had been told repeatedly that he "could go home tomorrow."

The best behaved children in a hospital are those who are emotionally secure and know what to expect. They come from homes where the parent-child relationship is tops. These youngsters know they are loved and that their parents will take care of them. Daily visiting is the rule, even though the child may be upset when Mother and Dad leave, but this is more than offset by the benefits received from seeing them.

A child who is old enough to understand should be told what to expect after he goes into the hospital. Mention the uniforms the nurses wear and the instruments the physicians use. Except for emergency hospitalization, the youngster should be told of the plans two or three days in advance, to give him time to think it over. Let him bring from home a toy or blanket of which he is especially fond.

CONVULSIONS

R. B. C. writes: Until my son was 6 years old, every time he developed fever he had a convulsion. He is now 13 and has not had such a seizure in years. Do you think he has epilepsy?

REPLY
I doubt it because it is not unusual for children to develop a convulsion at the onset of an infection. Adults generally develop a chill in the same circumstances. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on convulsions.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"Posh" is a very British word indeed, defined by Webster as "smart and elegant in appearance." Know its origin? Well, in the good old days, when British aristocrats were boarding ships to go and rule India, the legend was that they should book cabins on the port side on the way out (thereby getting the shady side on the hot trip through the Suez Canal) and, by the same token, nail down starboard cabins on the way home. In other words, "Port Outside, Starboard Home," and the abbreviation, P-O-S-H, became identified with the top dogs of the foreign service. All clear?

Mr. Haydn's wife left the house to take the family car out of the garage. A moment later he heard a horrendous crash. "He did you know it down?" he called fearfully. "No," she called back, "just over."

Mayor At Bayard, W. Va. Seeks Successor Soon As Possible

Recorder-Treasurer Also Needed;
Council Airs Numerous Civic Problems

BAYARD, W. Va. — This little West Virginia community, incorporated as a town in 1893 wants a mayor, and a recorder-treasurer.

At a meeting February 17, an effort was made to find a qualified citizen who could be "drafted" to serve as mayor, and also a qualified man or woman to serve as recorder-treasurer.

Since July 1, 1958, when elected town officials refused to qualify for the offices of mayor and recorder-treasurer, the town council appointed H. R. Fulk Sr., former recorder-treasurer to also serve as mayor. Since that time, Mr. Fulk has filled the two offices.

He told the town council and citizens that he would like to relinquish the offices as soon as possible and give "the honor of serving the community" to someone else.

Mr. Fulk is employed as bookkeeper for DelSignore Lumber Company and the Buffalo Coal Co. Inc., and is also the U.S. weather observer for the area, is a Notary Public, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for Grant County, is an insurance agent for two companies, and told the citizens he "needs just a little more time for hunting and fishing."

Members of the town council are Harold E. Shaffer, a high school teacher; Edwin "Dude" Gaither, a C & A Gas Company lineman; Charles Iser, custodian at Bayard High School; George R. Layton, a Western Maryland Railway Company truck driver; and H. R. Fulk Jr., a merchant who operates Fulk's General Store.

The senior Mr. Fulk, as acting mayor, reported to the council that town water samples sent to the West Virginia Department of Health at Charleston tested satisfactorily and the water supply is all right. He also reported that there have been numerous complaints about stray dogs running at large and the town policeman has been instructed to shoot them.

He reported that Army Engineers had contacted Former Mayor Layton for information on the proposed flood control work on Buffalo Creek which flows through the center of town. It is expected, he said, that the project might be started sometime this year.

Acting Mayor Fulk also called attention to problems of sewage, condition of streets, collection of taxes and numerous other items which plague anyone serving as the town's chief executive.

Councilman Fulk submitted a proposal calling for several broad municipal law changes. The proposal provides for surface treatment paving of Pine Street, Spruce Street and Buffalo Avenue; for rescinding or abolishing any municipal taxation that council considers unjust; that the council levy a tax on every male and female resident between the ages of 21 and 65, to be known as a "street tax;" that property owners on streets which are improved or paved be assessed one-third of the cost of the improvement, and that this tax be known as an Improvement Tax; that property owners be permitted to submit sealed votes on proposals to pave or surface the streets in question; that all property owners be required to sewer their own properties; and that all so-called outhouses be brought up to present-day existing health standards of the state; and that the council take action on these questions.

The proposals were read twice and endorsed by the council. They were then tabled in the form of an ordinance to be read a third time and passed at the next regular meeting. If approved, the entire ordinance is to become effective July 1, 1959.

The town officials serve terms of one year and were elected for the term July 1, 1958 to June 30, 1959. There will be a municipal election in June of this year, for which candidates are being sought.

Mayor At Bayard, W. Va. Seeks Successor Soon As Possible

Recorder-Treasurer Also Needed;
Council Aims Numerous Civic Problems

BAYARD, W. Va. — This little West Virginia community, incorporated as a town in 1893 wants a mayor, and a recorder-treasurer.

At a meeting February 17, an effort was made to find a qualified citizen who could be "drafted" to serve as mayor, and also a qualified man or woman to serve as recorder-treasurer.

Since July 1, 1958, when elected town officials refused to qualify for the offices of mayor and recorder-treasurer, the town council appointed H. R. Fulk Sr., former recorder-treasurer to also serve as mayor. Since that time, Mr. Fulk has filled the two offices.

He told the town council and citizens that he would like to relinquish the offices as soon as possible and give "the honor of serving the community" to someone else.

Mr. Fulk is employed as bookkeeper for Delsignore Lumber Company and the Buffalo Coal Co. Inc., and is also the U.S. weather observer for the area, is a Notary Public, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for Grant County, is an insurance agent for two companies, and told the citizens he "needs just a little more time for hunting and fishing."

Members of the town council are Harold E. Shaffer, a high school teacher; Edwin "Dude" Galtner, a C & A Gas Company lineman; Charles Iser, custodian at Bayard High School; George R. Layton, a Western Maryland Railway Company truck driver; and H. R. Fulk Jr., a merchant who operates Fulk's General Store.

The senior Mr. Fulk, as acting mayor, reported to the council that town water samples sent to the West Virginia Department of Health at Charleston tested satisfactorily and the water supply is all right. He also reported that there have been numerous complaints about stray dogs running at large and the town policeman has been instructed to shoot them.

He reported that Army Engineers had contacted Former Mayor Layton for information on the proposed flood control work on Buffalo Creek which flows through the center of town. It is expected, he said, that the project might be started sometime this year.

Acting Mayor Fulk also called attention to problems of sewage, condition of streets, collection of taxes and numerous other items which plague anyone serving as the town's chief executive.

Councilman Fulk submitted a proposal calling for several broad municipal law changes. The proposal provides for surface treatment paving of Pine Street, Spruce Street and Buffalo Avenue; for rescinding or abolishing any municipal taxation that council considers unjust; that the council levy a tax on every male and female resident between the ages of 21 and 65, to be known as a "street tax;" that property owners on streets which are improved or paved be assessed one-third of the cost of the improvement.

Allegany Jolts Fort Hill, 59-46, Ties Up Class A Race

Playoff Game Necessary To Decide Title

Valley Wins Over Bruce, 76-61; Beall High Victor, 71-62

Team	W	L	Pct.
Valley	9	1	.900

Beall	3	7	.300
Bruce	1	9	.100

By TED TROXELL

The swan song of intra-city competition on Allegany High School's old gymnasium was sung last night to the tune of an easy 59-46 victory by the rapidly improving Campers over Fort Hill's Sentinels. The outcome not only heightens interest in the three-way city championship race, but also necessitates a playoff between the two clubs to determine Allegany County's Class A representative to the district playoffs of the state tournament at Hagerstown two weeks hence.

Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County, announced last night that the playoff game between the Campers and Sentinels will be staged on either Thursday or Saturday of next week. The Beall High School gymnasium in Frostburg has been selected as the site of the showdown battle.

Allegany also clinched second place in the WMI League with a record of seven wins and three defeats, five of the triumphs coming in a row. Other WMI contests last night found Valley's champion Black Knights downing Bruce, 76-61, at Lonaconing, and Beall defeating Mt. Savage by a 71-62 count at Frostburg.

Coach Chester Payne's Campers had it all the way last night, with a foul shot by Gary Shook early in the opening period giving them a 3-2 lead they never lost.

Rolls Up 19 Point Lead

Overall superiority from the field and under the boards enabled the West Siders to roll up a 19-point advantage (32-13) in the first half. Shook, who was hitting from all angles throughout the evening, gunned in 13 points in the first half to lead the club offensively, while pivotman Bob Gaffney hauled down 10 rebounds, matching the entire team effort of Fort Hill prior to intermission.

A one-man effort by the Sentinels' Charlie Robinson in the second half prevented the game from developing into a complete rout. The versatile forward, who had been held to a mere three points in the first two stanzas, began finding the range from the floor and also drew numerous fouls, winding up with 21 points in the half. This total included a 9-12 effort from the free throw line.

At one point in the third stanza, with nearly four minutes remaining, Robinson engineered a steal at mid-court, drove in for a successful layup, and was fouled on the play by Alce's Jim C'Neal. The officials ruled that Robinson had been fouled deliberately and awarded Robinson two shots, both of which he converted. The four-point play closed the margin to 37-26, but the tempo slowed down considerably and a free throw by Shook was the only other point scored in the quarter, which ended with Fort Hill trailing, 38-26.

The final period was the most productive for both clubs, with Allegany outscoring the cross-town visitors, 21-20. Robinson personally accounted for 14 of his team's tallies in the quarter. Coach Payne removed his entire starting five from the lineup with approximately a minute left to play.

Sentinels Foul Out

Fort Hill lost two of its starters on personal fouls, Donnie Lewis was the first to make his exit, committing his fifth personal with 3:15 to go in the third quarter, and was followed to the showers by Bill Sheetz at the 3:30 mark of the final frame.

Shook wound up the night's activities with 25 points to lead the offensive parade. His 10-16 mark from the floor also gave him the leadership in field goal accuracy, as Robinson, who collected 24 points, hooped seven fielders in 21 tries. Gerald Horton came through with 15 tallies and Gary Frisby added 10 to the Camper attack. Robinson was the only Fort Hill cager in double figures.

The winners clinched for a respectable 418 percentage. Fort Hill posted a sub-par mark of .281, with 16 two-pointers in 57 shots at the target. Under the boards, Allegany also held the advantage by a 36-31 margin. Gaffney was the game's top rebounder with 18.

Lauder Scoring Champ

Valley closed out its WMI League season with a 9-1 record, and the Knights' high-scoring guard, George Lauder, clinched the league scoring championship in the Bruce-Valley tussle on the winners' floor.

Lauder tossed in 26 points to give him a total of 189 for the ten-game WMI season. The Bulldogs' Bill Wilston did not play due to illness and thus was unable to vie with Lauder for the title. Wilston ended up with 170 points for nine games, and his

131 Colts Are Nominated For Preakness On May 16

First Landing Is Early Favorite In $150,000 Feature

BALTIMORE (AP)—Christopher T. Cheney's First Landing, the two-year-old champion of 1958, appears certain for the role of early favorite among the 131 colts nominated for the $150,000 - added Preakness Stakes May 16 at Old Pimlico.

First Landing, which already has started a comfortable bank account with record winnings of $396,460, will have some healthy competition, however, if other top three-year-olds nominated for the big race actually start.

Those others include Brookfield Farm's Intentionally, which won $255,833 as a two-year-old, Llan-zellon Farm's Restless Wind, $231,288, and Fred Turner Jr.'s Tommy Lee, $213,460.

Still others now eligible for the world's richest added money race who rate second places are Claiborne Farm's Dancer, Brookmeade Stable's Aotli, Charfrank Stable's Crafty Skipper, and Jacques Braunstein Estate's Royal Orbit.

The colts may be running against a gal for the first time in two years. Reginald N. Webster nominated Quill last year's two-year-old champion filly. Quill won six of eight starts in 1958 and brought home prizes worth $144,692.

The last filly to win the black-eyed susans was Nellie Morse, back in 1924.

The owners of the 131 nominees each put $500 into the pot. If only 10 of those actually start—and put up the starting fee of $1,000—the gross value of this 63rd running of the Preakness would be $178,000.

Charles Town Tops Berkeley

Larry Burns Scores 18 In 78-71 Contest

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. — Charles Town High trailed through the first three quarters of play last night, but came on the fourth period flourish to defeat Berkeley Springs High, 78-71, on the Berkeley Springs floor.

The hosting Indians held the upper hand by 24-18 after the first quarter and by 38-28 at halftime. Charles Town steadily gained ground, trailing 57-36 after the third stanza. Then with Skinner and Renaldi setting the pace, the winners tallied 22 points in the final heat to Berkeley's 14, handing the latter its ninth loss in 18 outings.

Guard Larry Burns, former Cumberland resident, paced the Panthers' attack for the evening with nine field goals for 18 points. Renaldi, Eismon, Spinks, Skinner and Wilt accounted for all but one of the remaining 44 as six visiting cagers hit for double figures. A. L. Rice was top man for Berkeley with 22 tallies, while Vernon Roman, Gary Kerns, and Gary Henry tossed in 16, 15 and 13, respectively.

Five players left the contest via the 45 personal fouls plastered on both quints. Box score:

Hyndman Edges Everett, 45-42

Late Period Rally Decides BCL Game

EVERETT, Pa. — Hyndman-Londerrery High staged a last quarter rally here last night to hand hosting Everett a 45-42 setback in a Bedford County League contest. The triumph set Hyndman's season mark at 10-8.

The winners trailed by 29-36 upon entering the final eight minutes of play. A free throw by Vohn Lehman tied the count at 36-36 and another 15-foot connection with about three minutes remaining, again by Lehman, put Hyndman on top for good. Raymond Browning sparked the come-from-behind victory with a pair of field goals and four free charity tosses in the waning minutes.

The victors were paced by Ed Thompson's 18 points, while Browning contributed 11. Ronnie Diehl was high man for Everett with 16 digits.

Hyndman actually won the contest at the foul line where it meshed 11 of 15 shots to Everett's 4-13. The losers were on top in the field goal department, 19-17.

Everett's junior varsity won the prelim, 49-27. Box score:

Gene Fullmer Gets Decision Over Greaves

Latter's 13-Bout Win Streak Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Fullmer, a former middleweight champion of the world, broke Willie Greaves' 13-fight winning streak Friday night, winning a majority decision over the handsome Edmonton, Alberta, mauler in a 10-round match. Fullmer weighed 161, Greaves 162.

Greaves put up a tremendous battle against the 12-5 favorite. Although 23-year-old Greaves absorbed heavy body punishment, he pressed the attack most of the way with his left jab and hook.

Fullmer, No. 2 challenger in the 160-pound class, kept banging his right hand to the body all night. Working behind a shield of a left, he often beat Greaves to the punch with his right to the body.

There were no knockdowns. Fullmer bled from the nose in the fourth and from a cut around his right eye in the ninth.

Referee Harry Kessler scored it 5-4 for Fullmer and Judge Jack Gordon said it 6-4 in favor of the ex-champ. Judge Nick Gamboli called it 5-5 in rounds and points. He voted for a draw but the majority decision went to the bulky boy from West Jordan, Utah.

Allegany Jolts Fort Hill, 59-46, Ties Up Class A Race

Playoff Game Necessary To Decide Title

Valley Wins Over Bruce, 76-61; Beall High Victor, 71-62

Team	W	L	Pct.

By TED TROXELL

The swan song of intra-city competition on Allegany High School's old gymnasium was sung last night to the tune of an easy 59-46 victory by the rapidly improving Campers over Fort Hill's Sentinels. The outcome not only heightens interest in the three-way city championship race, but also necessitates a playoff between the two clubs to determine Allegany County's Class A representative to the district playoffs of the state tournament at Hagerstown two weeks hence.

Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County, announced last night that the playoff game between the Campers and Sentinels will be staged on either Thursday or Saturday of next week. The Beall High School gymnasium in Frostburg has been selected as the site of the showdown battle.

Allegany also clinched second place in the WMI League with a record of seven wins and three defeats, five of the triumphs coming in a row. Other WMI contests last night found Valley's champion Black Knights downing Bruce, 76-61, at Lonaconing, and Beall defeating Mt. Savage by a 71-62 count at Frostburg.

Coach Chester Payne's Campers had it all the way last night, with a foul shot by Gary Shook early in the opening period giving them a 3-2 lead they never lost.

Rolls Up 19 Point Lead

Overall superiority from the field and under the boards enabled the West Siders to roll up a 19-point advantage (32-13) in the first half. Shook, who was hitting from all angles throughout the evening, gunned in 13 points in the first half to lead the club offensively, while pivotman Bob Gaffney hauled down 10 rebounds, matching the entire team effort of Fort Hill prior to intermission.

A one-man effort by the Sentinels' Charlie Robinson in the second half prevented the game from developing into a complete rout. The versatile forward, who had been held to a mere three points in the first two stanzas, began finding the range from the floor and also drew numerous fouls, winding up with 21 points in the half. This total included a 9-12 effort from the free throw line.

At one point in the third stanza, with nearly four minutes remaining, Robinson engineered a steal at mid-court, drove in for a successful layup, and was fouled on the play by Alec's Jim C'Neal. The officials ruled that Robinson had been fouled deliberately and awarded Robinson two shots, both of which he converted. The four-point play closed the margin to 37-26, but the tempo slowed down considerably and a free throw by Shook was the only other point scored in the quarter, which ended with Fort Hill trailing, 38-26.

The final period was the most productive for both clubs, with Allegany outscoring the cross-town visitors, 21-20. Robinson personally accounted for 14 of his team's tallies in the quarter. Coach Payne removed his entire starting five from the lineup with approximately a minute left to play.

Sentinels Foul Out

Fort Hill lost two of its starters on personal fouls. Donnie Lewis was the first to make his exit, committing his fifth personal with 3:15 to go in the third quarter, and was followed to the showers by Bill Sheetz at the 3:30 mark of the final game.

Shook wound up the night's activities with 25 points to lead the offensive parade. His 10-16 mark from the floor also gave him the leadership in field goal accuracy, as Robinson, who collected 24 points, hooped seven fielders in 21 tries. Gerald Horton came through with 15 tallies and Gary Frisby added 10 to the Camper attack. Robinson was the only Fort Hill cager in double figures.

The winners clicked on 23 of 35 field goal attempts for a respectable 418 percentage. Fort Hill posted a sub-par mark of 281, with 16 two-pointers in 57 shots at the target. Under the boards, Allegany also held the advantage by a 36-31 margin. Gaffney was the game's top rebounder with 18.

Lauder Scoring Champ

Valley closed out its WMI League season with a 9-1 record, and the Knights' high-scoring guard, George Lauder, clinched the league scoring championship in the Bruce-Valley tussle on the winners' floor.

Lauder tossed in 26 points to give him a total of 189 for the ten-game WMI season. The Bulldogs' Bill Wiltson did not play due to illness and thus was unable to vie with Lauder for the title. Wiltson ended up with 170 tallies for nine games, and his

131 Colts Are Nominated For Preakness On May 16

First Landing Is Early Favorite In $150,000 Feature

BALTIMORE (AP)—Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, the two-year-old champion of 1958, appears certain for the role of early favorite among the 131 colts nominated for the $150,000 - added Preakness Stakes May 16 at Old Pimlico.

First Landing, which already has started a comfortable bank account with record winnings of $396,460, will have some healthy competition, however, if other top three-year-olds nominated for the big race actually start.

Those others include Brookfield Farm's Intentionally, which won $235,533 as a two-year-old; Llan-zollen Farm's Restless Wind, $281,296, and Fred Turner Jr.'s Tony Lee, $213,460.

Still others now eligible for the world's richest added money race who rate second glances are Clairborne Farm's Dunce, Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, Elkcam Stable's Atoll, Charfran Stable's Crafty Skipper, and Jacques Braunstein Estate's Royal Orbit.

The colts may be running against a gal for the first time in two years. Reginald N. Webster nominated Quill, last year's two-year-old champion filly. Quill won six of eight starts in 1958 and brought home prizes worth $144,602.

The last filly to win the black-eyed susans was Nellie Morse, back in 1924.

The owners of the 131 nominees each put $500 into the pot. If only 10 of those actually start—and put up the starting fee of $1,000—the gross value of this 83rd running of the Preakness would be $178,000.

Charles Town Tops Berkeley

Larry Burns Scores 18 In 78-71 Contest

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. — Charles Town High trailed through the first three quarters of play last night, but came on with a fourth period flourish to defeat Berkeley Springs High, 78-71, on the Berkeley Springs floor.

EVERETT, Pa. — Hyndman-Londonderry High staged a last quarter rally here last night to hand hosting Everett a 45-42 setback in a Bedford County League contest. The triumph set Hyndman's season mark at 10-8.

The winners trailed by 29-36 through the final eight minutes of play, a free throw by Vohn Lehman tied the count at 36-36 and another 15-foot connection with about three minutes remaining, again by Lehman, put Hyndman on top for good. Raymond Browning sparked the come-from-behind victory with a pair of field goals and four for five charity tosses in the waning minutes.

The victors were paced by Ed Thompson's 18 points, while Browning contributed 11. Ronnie Diehl was high man for Everett with 16 digits.

Olson Is Injured In Riotous Battle

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sweden beat the touring U.S. hockey team, 3-1, Friday night in a rough and riotous game that landed American defenseman Weidman Olson in the hospital with a possible brain concussion and the loss of three teeth.

The riots erupted in the second period, which lasted more than 50 minutes because of the many breaks for fisticuffs and free-for-all scrambles. Officials of both teams blamed the rough play on poor refereeing by the two Swedish officials, Ernst Wilkert and Einar Bostrom.

In the second period, Swedish Captain Lars Bjorn and Olson of Marquette, Mich., began to fight.

Olson lost three teeth and was severely stunned.

Ohio Youth Faces Hearing In Annapolis

Robert B. Johnson, 19, of East Liverpool, Ohio, who was arrested on the east side of Martin's Mountain January 31 after allegedly wrecking a stolen car following his escape from a medium security prison at Huttonsville, W. Va., will be taken before Governor J. Millard Tawes in Annapolis at 10:30 a. m. Monday, March 9.

The Ohio youth has refused to waive extradition to West Virginia, according to Sheriff Paul C. Haberman, and consequently must be taken before Governor Tawes for a hearing as to whether he should be extradited.

Trooper Harry J. Garcia arrested Johnson along U. S. Route 40 on the eastern slope of Martin's Mountain the night of January 31 when the youth attempted to hitch-hike a ride after wrecking a stolen car on the mountain.

State Police said Johnson had escaped from the penal institution in Preston County, W. Va., and later stole an automobile belonging to Victor Price of Morgantown, W. Va. It was this car which was smashed on Martin's Mountain.

Johnson has been lodged in Allegany County Jail since February 1.

Sweden Hockey Team Tops U.S.

Olson Is Injured In Riotous Battle

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sweden beat the touring U.S. hockey team, 3-1, Friday night in a rough and riotous game that landed American defenseman Weidon Olson in the hospital with a possible brain concussion and the loss of three teeth.

The riots erupted in the second period, which lasted more than 50 minutes because of the many breaks for fistfights and free-for-all scrambles. Officials of both teams blamed the rough play on poor refereeing by the two Swedish officials, Ernst Wikert and Einar Bostrom.

In the second period, Swedish Captain Lars Bjorn and Olson of Marquette, Mich., began to fight.

Olson lost three teeth and was severely stunned.

Cord of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the death of our husband and father, George A. Wilhelm. We also wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent flowers, donations, cards or in any manner assisted us.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Bertha M. Morris, who passed away 31 years ago today.

A wonderful mother, woman and aid. One who was better, God never made. A wonderful worker, so loyal and true. One in a million, that Mother was you. Just in our judgment always right. Honest and liberal, ever upright. Loved by our friends, and all whom you knew.

Our wonderful mother, that mother was you.

Sadly missed by
MARIE and LEOA.

GOP Victory Predicted In 1960 Election

Republicans Attend Lincoln Day Event

U. S. Senator Kenneth B. Keating, of New York, last night predicted that the Republican Party will elect a Republican President next year.

In a Lincoln Day dinner address, he said the Republican party, just as in Lincoln's day, has told the truth and:

"As the Republican Party of Lincoln's time did, we shall not despair but will surge back" and prove that a "58 defeat contains the seeds of a '60 victory."

Senator Keating, who with U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall is a member of the organization he dubbed "The Republican Survivors Association," was introduced by former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde to the some 250 party leaders attending the rally in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, served as toastmaster.

In Right Party

Senator Keating reminded GOP leaders that Senator John Marshall Butler will defend his Senate seat in 1960 and he urged support for the Senator who, he said, has served with distinction.

He said the party has had hard times as well as good ones but assured, "We're in the right party."

"If you have any doubts," he said, "just look at the Democrats... I don't look on the Democrats as a party, but rather a treaty of mutual non-aggression."

"It's hard," he said, "to tell whether they are a major party—or a minor riot."

Senator Keating recalled the sesquicentennial of Abraham Lincoln's birth and said Republicans can gain inspiration by looking back 100 years.

A century ago, he said, Lincoln was badly defeated (in 1858) when he ran against Stephen A. Douglas for the Senate.

Cites Abe's Victory

Lincoln, he said, failed to win "just as we Republicans failed to win" majority support 100 years later in the 1958 election.

Lincoln refused to bow to adversity and spent 1859 spreading the message of the party and seeking support from previously hostile or politically inactive citizens.

"The very next year," Senator Keating said, "Lincoln and his Republican Party won a victory which was vital not only to the Party but to the preservation of the Union itself."

"This year and next," he said, "Republicans of all levels must strive... on the course Lincoln followed from a '58 defeat to a shining victory in '60."

He said the course "will be a hard one and the party organization must be strengthened down to the smallest precinct."

The Republican Party, he said, has a great record in everything except selling its own accomplishments.

These critical times, he said, require calm, firm and stable handling that only the Republican Party is capable of providing.

Says Demos Panic

A moderate, balanced approach to public problems has distinguished the Republican from the Democratic party "which panics easily, flits from goal to goal and launches half-considered schemes to catch every shift in the wind," he said.

Republicans said the recent recession was a temporary downturn which would be—and quickly was—reversed by more than 50 affirmative actions which our administration took," he said.

GOP plans, he said, did not contain any of the opposition's plans "which would have heaped meaningless debt upon ourselves and our children."

He said Democrats last year "sold America short" and are still persisting in a course leading to more deficit spending and more ruinous inflation.

"Just yesterday," he said, "a Democratic Senator said it was time to stop dabbling with a balanced budget."

Peace Not Distant

Democrats, he said, have shown themselves equally wrong in foreign policy. From 1946 to 1952, prior to the Eisenhower administration, Communism overran 14 nations and put 800,000 people under the Communist yoke.

From 1953, he said, "we have seen war in Korea ended, Jordan, Lebanon and Quemoqy protected, Austria and Guatemala kept free and no ne warcaes lost to Communism."

"Peace," he quoted Lincoln, "does not appear so far distant as it did."

Mr. Beall paid a tribute to Edmund S. Burke and exhibited a plaque which will be presented to the GOP fund raiser at his home in gratitude to his efforts for the party.

All four Republican delegates to the General Assembly attended the annual rally.

Regrets were sent by Senator Beall, who is recuperating from a recent operation and from former Governor Theodore R. McKeldin and State Senator Charles M. See.

The party, Mr. Hyde said, has suffered a setback, as all parties must, and clear thinking will be needed for victory.

Republicans Gather

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee (left) welcomes Senator Kenneth B. Keating of New York, principal speaker at last night's Lincoln Day Dinner at the Shrine Country Club. Looking on is former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who formerly represented this Congressional district in the House of Representatives, where he served with Senator Keating when the New Yorker was a Representative.

Phone Company Damage Suit Is Moved Here

An unusual $3,000 damage suit brought by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company for alleged damage to the company's conduit and cable at Hagerstown has been removed to Allegany County Circuit Court for trial.

The suit was filed originally in Washington County Circuit Court at Hagerstown against R. L. Kershner, 2020 Pennsylvania Avenue, Hagerstown.

This week Kershner filed a suggestion that he could not obtain a fair trial in Hagerstown and Associate Judge D. K. McLaughlin signed an order removing the case to this county.

In the declaration, the phone company alleged that on or about April 15, 1955, the defendant, in making a water connection in the vicinity of 434 Salem Avenue in Hagerstown pushed a pipe line into a conduit and a 900-pair cable thereby damaging both the conduit and cable.

The phone company says that the damage was not discovered until about October 1, 1956, just before putting dial service into operation in that city. The firm figured that it cost $2,874.28 to repair the damage.

Also docketed here this week was a $2,000 damage suit and its out-of-court settlement for $1,500.

Robert Randolph Kitzmiller, an infant, by Stephen Kitzmiller and Irene Kitzmiller, his parents and next friends, 75 Main Street, Westernport, brought the action against Robert Francis Bisignano and Genevieve A. Bisignano, 55 Ormond Street, Frostburg.

The declaration states that young Kitzmiller was injured August 24, 1958, while riding in the motor vehicle owned and operated by Thurman G. Kitzmiller. It was struck along State Route 36 near Shaft by a car driven by Robert Bisignano and owned by his mother, Mrs. Genevieve A. Bisignano. The boy sustained lacerations, a sprained wrist and loss of several teeth. The $1,500 settlement was signed by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for the plaintiffs, and C. William Gilchrist as defense attorney.

Point System Wins Approval

ANNAPOLIS (AP) —The House Motor Vehicles Committee gave quick approval Friday to an administration-backed bill to set up a point system for Maryland drivers.

The bill will be reported to the House floor for action Monday night.

It creates a system of demerits for driving infractions and is aimed at ridding the highways of chronic traffic law violators.

The committee, at the suggestion of the attorney general's office, curbed the authority granted the commissioner of motor vehicles in the original bill to change these point values for various offenses after he saw how they were working.

Amendments will require that the commissioner consult the superintendent of State Police, obtain approval of the governor and publish such changes in newspapers two weeks in advance of their taking effect.

The bill was sponsored by Dels. Sickles and Machen of Prince Georges County and was endorsed by Gov. Tawes Wednesday as one of the key bills in his traffic safety program.

Another that he favors, to permit chemical tests in drunken driving cases, will come up for public hearing before the Motor Vehicles Committee next Thursday at 3 p.m.

Union Will Meet

Local 568, Iron Workers Union, will hold a membership meeting today at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple. The local's executive board will meet at 6 p. m.

Guard Plans Open House On Monday

"Open House" will be observed Monday by Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard at the Armory on South Centre Street.

The program will be held from 1:30 to 4 p. m. and from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. in order to acquaint residents of Cumberland and vicinity with the National Guard and the history which has been made by companies from the Queen City.

It will also be held in connection with Muster Day which will be Sunday. At 2 p. m. and 8:30 movies of the modern Army will be shown.

Modern weapons will be on display and there will be a short talk on the new organization, the tank battalion. Training of the company personnel may also be observed during the program.

The first two militia units were organized in Massachusetts in 1636 and the Guard has fought in every conflict in which the nation has been engaged.

Heart Sunday Volunteers To Canvass City

Some 30 district captains will lead the army of Heart Sunday volunteers in a house-to-house collection tomorrow for the 1959 Heart Fund, Mrs. William J. Gunter, Heart Sunday chairman, announced yesterday.

Mrs. Gunter said each captain will be in charge of a school area in Cumberland and the surrounding territories, and will be responsible for briefing and equipping the volunteers who will be collecting within that district.

Almost 1,000 volunteers hope to canvass every home in the community during the three-hour collection period, Mrs. Gunter added.

Deaths

Grayson, Mrs. Frank O., native of Cumberland.

Report Cites Salvation Army 1958 Success

Southview Lots Purchase Stressed

Five major accomplishments of the Salvation Army's Advisory Board in 1958 are cited in the Army's annual report, which was circulated last night at the annual civic dinner held at Central YMCA.

These accomplishments were highlighted by the purchase of 21 lots in Southview Addition for relocation of the South Cumberland Corps. Other accomplishments included the re-equipping of the woodworking shop at the Citadel through generosity of the Cumberland Lions Club, equipping and placing in operation the woodworking shop at the South Cumberland Corps through courtesy of the Lions Club, Optimist Club and the electrical workers union, the complete reorganization of the Advisory Board in accordance with the new manual and purchase of a new station wagon for South Corps.

Projected plans for the Salvation Army are overshadowed by a four-fold capital campaign. Objectives of this campaign are erection of South Cumberland Corps and community center, the liquidation of mortgage on the officer's quarters on Rose Hill Avenue, renovation of the North Mechanic Street property and erection of officers quarters for South Corps.

Other projected plans include paying off the mortgage on Southview Addition and Virginia Avenue properties and the sale of the property at 511 Virginia Avenue.

Senior Captain Daniel K. Biggs, in citing highlights from the annual report, said that he and Mrs. Biggs rounded out their sixth year in Cumberland on February 7.

To carry out the Salvation Army program last year in Allegany and Mineral counties and nearby Pennsylvania a total of $57,092.18 was spent during 1958.

Principal items under expenditures were $20,916.21 for service and activities, $7,335.99 for communications and transportation, $10,677.67 for building and equipment maintenance and $17,962.40 for salaries and wages.

Income in 1958 was topped by $39,529.81 received from the County United Fund. Other income included $8,027.59 from contributions, $4,594.74 of which came through the Christmas cheer campaign, and $9,499.75 from operating income.

510 Food Orders
The 510 Christmas food orders provided by the Salvation Army went to 11 different communities.

The report showed 265 were distributed in Cumberland, 69 in Frostburg, 65 in Lonaconing, 49 funds from the licensing he used in the Oldtown area, 24 to Mt. Savage, 13 to Ridgeley, eight to each of Flintstone, Midland, Keyser and Westport and three in the nearby Pennsylvania area.

Principal speaker at last night's civic dinner was Brigadier Carl E. Cone of Baltimore, who is commander of the Maryland and Northern West Virginia Division. He cited some of the strides made by the Salvation Army since it was founded in England in 1865 by William Booth, a single man with a compassionate idea.

Brigadier Cone told the officers and members of the SA Advisory Board and their friends that the Army's prime purpose is spiritual reclamation. He said Salvation Army people readily admit that they are Bible-carrying social workers who attempt to reach the man who is down but never out.

Officers Installed
Seated together at the speaker's table were the retiring and new chairmen of the Advisory Board.

Delphin E. Trieber, vice president of the association, becomes acting president as a result of the resignation. A reorganization meeting is scheduled for Tuesday night when officers and directors will meet at 130 North Centre Street.

Motorboats Buck Stormy Seas In Md. Legislature

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A potential storm brewed in the Maryland Legislature Friday over a "million dollar" proposal to license and regulate all motorboats in the state.

A subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee got an idea of some of the problems at a meeting with state officials Friday morning.

"There's no question there will be a lot of controversy about it," said Del. Dale Hess (D-Harford), chairman of the subcommittee. "But there will be less if people will understand that the federal government has already enacted a law which will take effect if the state doesn't act."

Hearing Set Thursday

The Ways and Means Committee plans to give the proposal a full public airing in the House Chamber at 11 a. m. next Thursday. Hess said numerous requests for a hearing have been received from yacht clubs, small boat owners and boat dealers.

Most of the differences which have arisen thus far over the proposed state act, backed by the Tawes administration, result from variations from the federal act and how the money should be spent.

The state act drawn up by the Tidewater Fisheries Commission, which will enforce it, calls for a $5 annual license for every boat which will use an outboard or inboard motor.

There are estimates that Maryland now has about 200,000 such boats, and Gov. Tawes wants the million dollars in revenue go into the state's general fund without restriction on how it would be spent.

Revenue Measure?

The Federal Government Regulatory Act, which will take effect in 1960 unless the state acts before then, exempts boats using motors under 10 horsepower and requires an initial license fee of $5 which would be good for a three-year period. After that, says Hess, a $3 annual license fee would be required.

Critics of the proposed state act have called it a "revenue measure" as well as a safety act. Del. Blades (D-Caroline), who serves on the subcommittee with Hess and Del. Linton (D-Charles), said he would sponsor an amendment to exempt those under 10 horsepower as originally called for.

John P. Tawes, chairman of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission, told the subcommittee this would make it difficult to enforce since it couldn't be determined from a distance what size motor a boat was using.

Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks, proposed that part of the funds from the licensing be used in the Oldtown area, 24 to Mt. Savage, 13 to Ridgeley, eight to each of Flintstone, Midland, Keyser and Westport and three in the nearby Pennsylvania area.

He indicated the subcommittee would not recommend tying down the funds to a specific project.

Deep Creek Exemption

The subcommittee did make a concession though to boat owners on Deep Creek Lake, who already pay a $3 annual registration fee to the Department of Game and Inland Fish. At the request of Del. Walsh (D-Allegany) the proposal would require of them only the $5 fee paid by anyone else.

The game department would continue collecting these fees and would keep $3 of each of the licenses as it had done before.

Walsh said the way the act was drawn, users of Deep Creek Lake would have been paying fees totaling $8 and this would amount to double taxation.

The House Judiciary Committee, meanwhile, approved bills to integrate Montrose Training School for Girls and to tighten restrictions on sale of obscene literature and horror comics.

Engineers Open Lighting Study For Thruway

Plant Experts Will Make Suggestions

Engineers from area industrial plants met yesterday with the Mayor and Council to begin a study of the most efficient and economical method of lighting the Cumberland Thruway.

Representing the technical committee were Frank E. Hines, electrical engineer for the Celanese Corporation's Amcelle plant, and W. T. Toms, chief electrical engineer of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. The third member, John G. Lucas Jr., assistant plant engineer for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7, was unable to attend the first session.

The committee will make a complete study of the problem, report back to the Mayor and Council and then make final recommendations.

The recommendations asked include the light level for the highway, type of lamps to be used, type of pole, sections which are to be lighted, installation procedure, ownership and maintenance and cost.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, supplied the engineers with all available information on the lighting of the Thruway project.

The Potomac Edison Company has submitted a number of alternate plans for lighting the section from Lindernville to Maryland Avenue.

The most elaborate plan, Mayor J. Edwin Keach reported, would cost $15,000 a year for rental. It calls for the latest type of equipment and for wires to be carried through underground conduits.

Bids on the section of the Thruway from Lindernville to Maryland Avenue are expected in a few months.

Mayor Keach said city officials feel it will not be necessary to light all four and one-half miles of the Thruway but only bridges and approaches.

Glass Firm Striving For Full Production

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7 has not quite reached full production, although all departments are going full blast.

Glass company officials said they had expected to be in full production shortly following the resumption of work here earlier this week.

The firm was delayed yesterday because of the cold weather here. Heating operations were changed from gas to oil when the local gas firm made the request because gas supplies were needed for private consumers.

Driver 'Fair' After Crash

William L. (Ike) Carpenter, 33, of Cash Valley Road, was reported in "fair" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted early yesterday morning after the milk truck he was operating was struck headon by another truck on U. S. Route 40 in LaVale.

Mr. Carpenter, a driver for the Queen City Dairy, sustained a fractured left wrist, lacerations of the head, abrasions of the face, hips and thighs, and possible fractured ribs.

State Troopers J. H. Helmstetter and J. A. Smith, identified the driver of the other vehicle as Walter W. Fearer, 26, of Friendsville, an employee of the Sterling Processing Corporation, an Oakland poultry processing firm.

Fearer was traveling west on Route 40 when he apparently lost control of his vehicle, crossed the center lane and crashed headon into the milk truck. The impact forced the milk truck onto the shoulder of the highway and turned it onto its side.

Police said Fearer was charged with failure to keep to the right of the highway.

Local 26 To Name Department Heads

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall, according to A. E. Johnson, president. Business will include the nomination and election of department chairmen and committee men.

Reports will also be presented on seven grievances at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

Identity Clarified

Wilbert "Buck" Brant, 742 Greene Street is not the Buck Brant of Cumberland who was sentenced to 30 days in County Jail Thursday in Trial Magistrate Court.

Navy Awards $1 Million Hercules Job

Indian Head Work Is ABL-Related

The Navy has announced a $1 million contract to the Hercules Powder Company for architectural and engineering services at the U. S. Naval Propellant Plant at Indian Head in the development indirectly related to Allegany Ballistics Laboratory operations at nearby Pinto.

The contract calls for the preparation of designs and specifications for structures and equipment which will provide facilities for pilot line assembly and loading of an alternate double-base propellant motor for possible use in the Polaris ballistic missile.

This new double-base propellant motor is being developed at ABL, which is operated by the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance by Hercules Powder Company.

Some propellant ingredients required by ABL for this new motor are now being produced at the Indian Head facility.

Studies of production methods are now being undertaken prior to the actual pilot line operation. The construction project, which will be under the direction of the district public works officer, Potomac River Naval Command, has been set up under an initial expenditure of $1 million, which provides for the architectural and engineering work and the procurement of long-lead items.

Total cost of the program, including all equipment, is expected to be approximately $8 million.

Construction is expected to start during the latter part of 1959.

Witte Receives Three Years For Burglary

Robert Hoover Witte, 30-year-old former resident of Mt. Savage, yesterday was sentenced to three years in the Maryland House of Correction by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in Allegany County Circuit Court after pleading guilty to burglary of a Corriganville service station.

Judge Fraley also recommended that Witte be considered for transfer to Patuxent Institution, the relatively new state institution for defective delinquents.

Witte was indicted in January on a charge of breaking into the Corriganville service station of Mathias John Madden last November 9 and stealing five re-capped tires, a half full box of cigars and $6.30 in small change. The total value of the loot was set at $48.05.

At the time of his indictment he was serving time in the Cambria County Jail in Ebensburg, Pa., on an automobile theft charge.

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason, who handled the prosecution of the case, said that Witte has a long record. He has been arrested and convicted 10 times since March 1949 and is currently on parole from the Maryland House of Correction. He drew a five-year term in Allegany County Circuit Court August 12, 1955, as a parole violator and was released only last fall.

GOP Victory Predicted In 1960 Election

Republicans Attend Lincoln Day Event

U. S. Senator Kenneth B. Keating, of New York, last night predicted that the Republican Party will elect a Republican President next year.

In a Lincoln Day dinner address, he said the Republican party, just as in Lincoln's day, has told the truth and:

"As the Republican Party of Lincoln's time did, we shall not despair but will surge back" and prove that a "58 defeat contains the seeds of a '60 victory."

Senator Keating, who with U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall is a member of the organization he dubbed "The Republican Survivors Association," was introduced by former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde to the some 250 party leaders attending the rally in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, served as toastmaster.

In Right Party

Senator Keating reminded GOP leaders that Senator John Marshall Butler will defend his Senate seat in 1960 and he urged support for the Senator who, he said, has served with distinction.

He said the party has had hard times as well as good ones but assured, "We're in the right party."

"If you have any doubts," he said, "just look at the Democrats. . . I don't look on the Democrats as a party, but rather a treaty of mutual non-aggression."

"It's hard," he said, "to tell whether they are a major party—or a minor riot."

Senator Keating recalled the sesquicentennial of Abraham Lincoln's birth and said Republicans can gain inspiration by looking back 100 years.

A century ago, he said, Lincoln was badly defeated (in 1858) when he ran against Stephen A. Douglas for the Senate.

Cites Abe's Victory

Lincoln, he said, failed to win "just as we Republicans failed to win" majority support 100 years later in the 1958 election.

Lincoln refused to bow to adversity and spent 1859 spreading the message of the party and seeking support from previously hostile or politically inactive citizens.

"The very next year," Senator Keating said, "Lincoln and his Republican Party won a victory which was vital not only to the Party but to the preservation of the Union itself."

"This year and next," he said, "Republicans of all levels must strive . . . on the course Lincoln followed from a '58 defeat to a shining victory in '60."

He said the course will be a hard one and the party organization must be strengthened down to the smallest precinct.

The Republican Party, he said, has a great record in everything except selling its own accomplishments.

These critical times, he said, require calm, firm and stable handling that only the Republican Party is capable of providing.

Says Demos Panic

A moderate, balanced approach to public problems has distinguished the Republican from the Democratic Party "which panics easily, flits from goal to goal and launches half-considered schemes to catch every shift in the wind," he said.

Republicans said the recent recession was a temporary downturn which would be—and quickly was—reversed by more than 50 affirmative actions which our administration took," he said.

GOP plans, he said, did not contain any of the opposition's plans "which would have heaped meaningless debt upon ourselves and our children."

He said Democrats last year "sold America short" and are still persisting in a course leading to more deficit spending and more ruinous inflation.

"Just yesterday," he said, "a Democratic Senator said it was time to stop dabbling with a balanced budget."

Peace Not Distant

Democrats, he said, have shown themselves equally wrong in foreign policy. From 1946 to 1952, prior to the Eisenhower administration, Communism overran 14 nations and put 800,000 people under the Communist yoke.

From 1953, he said, "we have seen war in Korea ended, Jordan, Lebanon and Quemoy protected, Austria and Guatemala kept free and no new wars lost to Communism."

"Peace," he quoted Lincoln, "does not appear so far distant as it did."

Mr. Beall paid a tribute to Edmund S. Burke and exhibited a plaque which will be presented to the GOP fund raiser at his home in gratitude to his efforts for the party.

All four Republican delegates to the General Assembly attended the annual rally.

Regrets were sent by Senator Beall, who is recuperating from a recent operation and from former Governor Theodore R. McKeldin and State Senator Charles M. See.

The party, Mr. Hyde said, has suffered a setback, as all parties must, and clear thinking will be needed for victory.

Republicans Gather

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee (left) welcomes Senator Kenneth B. Keating of New York, principal speaker at last night's Lincoln Day Dinner at the Shrine Country Club. Looking on is former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who formerly represented this Congressional district in the House of Representatives, where he served with Senator Keating when the New Yorker was a Representative.

Phone Company Damage Suit Is Moved Here

An unusual $3,000 damage suit brought by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company for alleged damage to the company's conduit and cable at Hagerstown has been removed to Allegany County Circuit Court for trial.

The suit was filed originally in Washington County Circuit Court at Hagerstown against R. L. Kershner, 2020 Pennsylvania Avenue, Hagerstown.

This week Kershner filed a suggestion that he could not obtain a fair trial in Hagerstown and Associate Judge D. K. McLaughlin signed an order removing the case to this county.

In the declaration, the phone company alleged that on or about April 15, 1955, the defendant, in making a water connection in the vicinity of 434 Salem Avenue in Hagerstown pushed a pipe line into a conduit and a 900-pair cable thereby damaging both the conduit and cable.

The phone company says that the damage was not discovered until about October 1, 1956, just before putting dial service into operation in that city. The firm figured that it cost $2,874.28 to repair the damage.

Also docketed here this week was a $2,000 damage suit and its out-of-court settlement for $1,500.

Robert Randolph Kitzmiller, an infant, by Stephen Kitzmiller and Irene Kitzmiller, his parents and next friends, 75 Main Street, Westernport, brought the action against Robert Francis Bisignano and Genevieve A. Bisignano, 55 Ormond Street, Frostburg.

The declaration states that young Kitzmiller was injured August 24, 1958, while riding in the motor vehicle owned and operated by Thurman G. Kitzmiller. It was struck along State Route 36 near Shaft by a car driven by Robert Bisignano and owned by his mother, Mrs. Genevieve A. Bisignano. The boy sustained lacerations, a sprained wrist and loss of several teeth. The $1,500 settlement was signed by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for the plaintiffs, and C. William Gilchrist as defense attorney.

The bill will be reported to the House floor for action Monday night.

It creates a system of demerits for driving infractions and is aimed at ridding the highways of chronic traffic law violators.

The committee, at the suggestion of the attorney general's office, curbed the authority granted the commissioner of motor vehicles in the original bill to change these point values for various offenses after he saw how they were working.

Amendments will require that the commissioner consult the superintendent of State Police, obtain approval of the governor and publish such changes in newspapers two weeks in advance of their taking effect.

The bill was sponsored by Deis. Sickles and Machen of Prince Georges County and was endorsed by Gov. Tawes Wednesday as one of the key bills in his traffic safety program.

Another that he favors, to permit chemical tests of drunken drivers cases, will come up for public hearing before the Motor Vehicles Committee next Thursday at 3 p.m.

Union Will Meet

Local 568, Iron Workers Union, will hold a membership meeting today at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple. The local's executive board will meet at 6 p. m.

Guard Plans Open House On Monday

"Open House" will be observed on Monday by Headquarters Company, First Battalion, 115th Infantry, Maryland National Guard at the Armory on South Centre Street.

The program will be held from 1:30 to 4 p. m. and from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. in order to acquaint residents of Cumberland and vicinity with the National Guard and the history which has been made by companies from the Queen City.

It will also be held in connection with Muster Day which will be Sunday. At 2 p. m. and 8:30 movies of the modern Army will be shown.

Modern weapons will be on display and there will be a short talk on the new organization, the tank battalion. Training of the company personnel may also be observed during the program.

The first two militia units were organized in Massachusetts in 1636 and the Guard has fought in every conflict in which the nation has been engaged.

Health Board Will Not Hold Closed Sessions

Allegany County's three commissioners decided yesterday unanimously that there will be no meetings of the County Board of Health behind closed doors.

Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, had proposed that the Board of Health hold meetings "where, without political embarrassment, it can formally decide on specific matters without the benefit of the presence of the press."

A letter from Dr. van Strien to John J. Rowan, president of the county commissioners, stated that "publicity resulting from discussions before the county board of health matters causes problems which have affected the health department."

Commissioners Rowan, William A. Wilson and John Tucker Mason were unanimous in stating that no meetings of the Board of Health, of which they are members as county commissioners, will be held without benefit of press coverage.

Dr. van Strien stated in his letter that a recent news article and attached headline had resulted in some people saying that the Health Department "should keep its nose clean before acting against individuals on complaints."

There is a state law which provides that all meetings, regular and special, of the Board of County Commissioners of any county "shall be public meetings and open to the public at all times."

County commissioners may hold executive meeting from which the public is excluded "but no ordinance, resolution, rule or regulation shall be finally adopted at such an executive session."

Report Cites Salvation Army 1958 Success

Southview Lots Purchase Stressed

Five major accomplishments of the Salvation Army's Advisory Board in 1958 are cited in the Army's annual report, which was circulated last night at the annual civic dinner held at Central YMCA.

These accomplishments were highlighted by the purchase of 21 lots in Southview Addition for relocation of the South Cumberland Corps. Other accomplishments included the re-equipping of the woodworking shop at the Citadel through generosity of the Cumberland Lions Club, equipping and placing in operation the woodworking shop at the South Cumberland Corps through courtesy of the Lions Club, Optimist Club and the electrical workers union, the complete reorganization of the Advisory Board in accordance with the new manual and purchase of a new station wagon for South Corps.

Projected plans for the Salvation Army are overshadowed by a four-fold capital campaign. Objectives of this campaign are erection of South Cumberland Corps and community center, liquidation of mortgage on the officer's quarters on Rose Hill, which will enforce it, calls for a Mechanic Street property and erection of officers quarters for South Corps.

Other projected plans include paying off the mortgage on Southview Addition and Virginia Avenue properties and the sale of the property at 511 Virginia Avenue.

Senior Captain Daniel K. Biggs, in citing highlights from the annual report, said that he and Mrs. Biggs rounded out their sixth year in Cumberland on February 7.

To carry out the Salvation Army program last year in Allegany and Mineral counties and nearby Pennsylvania a total of $57,092.18 was spent during 1958.

Principal items under expenditures were $20,916.21 for service and activities, $7,335.99 for communications and transportation, $10,677.67 for building and equipment maintenance and $17,962.40 for salaries and wages.

Income in 1958 was topped by $39,529.81 received from the County United Fund. Other income included $8,027.59 from contributions, $4,594.74 of which came through the Christmas cheer campaign, and $9,499.75 from operating income.

510 Food Orders

The 510 Christmas food orders provided by the Salvation Army went to 11 different communities. The report showed 265 were distributed in Cumberland, 69 in Frostburg, 65 in Lonaconing, 49 in the Oldtown area, 24 to Mt. Savage, 13 to Ridgeley, eight each to Flintstone, Midland, Keyser and Westernport and three in the nearby Pennsylvania area.

Principal speaker at last night's civic dinner was Brigadier Carl E. Cone of Baltimore, who is commander of the Maryland and Northern Virginia Division.

He cited some of the strides made by the Salvation Army since it was founded in England in 1865 by William Booth, a single man with a compassionate idea.

Brigadier Cone told the officers and members of the SA Advisory Board and their friends that the Army's prime purpose is spiritual reclamation. He said Salvation Army people readily admit that they are Bible-carrying social workers who attempt to reach the man who is down but never out.

Officers Installed

Seated together at the speaker's table were the retiring and new chairmen of the Advisory Board who traveled from opposite directions to attend the meeting. Robert M. Hainsfurther, the 1958 chairman, came from Pittsburgh, where he was transferred about (Continued on Page 8)

Rocks, Shoals, Taxes: Motorboats Buck Stormy Seas In Md. Legislature

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A potential storm brewed in the Maryland Legislature Friday over a "million dollar" proposal to license and regulate all motorboats in the state.

A subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee got an idea of some of the problems at a meeting with state officials Friday morning.

"There's no question there will be a lot of controversy about it," said Del. Dale Hess (D-Harford), chairman of the subcommittee.

"But there will be less if people will understand that the federal government has already enacted a law which will take effect if the state doesn't act."

Hearing Set Thursday

The Ways and Means Committee plans to give the proposal a full public airing in the House Chamber at 11 a. m. next Thursday. Hess said numerous requests for a hearing have been received from yacht clubs, small boat owners and boat dealers.

Most of the differences which have arisen thus far over the proposed state act, backed by the Tawes administration, result from variations from the federal act and how the money should be spent.

The state act drawn up by the Tidewater Fisheries Commission, which will enforce it, calls for a $5 annual license for every boat which will use an outboard or inboard motor.

There are estimates that Maryland now has about 200,000 such boats, and Gov. Tawes wants the million dollars in revenue go into the state's general fund without restriction on how it would be spent.

Revenue Measure?

The Federal Government Regulatory Act, which will take effect in 1960 unless the state acts before then, exempts boats using motors under 10 horsepower and requires an initial license fee of $5 which would be good for a three-year period. After that, says Hess, a $3 annual license fee would be required.

Critics of the proposed state act have called it a "revenue measure" as well as a safety act.

Del. Blades (D-Caroline), who serves on the subcommittee with Hess and Del. Linton (D-Charles), said he would sponsor an amendment to exempt those under 10 horsepower as originally called for.

John P. Tawes, chairman of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission, told the subcommittee this would make the act difficult to enforce since it couldn't be determined from a distance what size motor a boat was using.

Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks, proposed that part of the funds from the licensing be used to develop small boat landings and piers. But Hess said there was no program worked up to accomplish this and such a plan could be submitted as a separate bill later.

He indicated the subcommittee would not recommend tying down the funds to a specific project.

Deep Creek Exemption

The subcommittee did make a concession though to boat owners on Deep Creek Lake, who already pay a $3 annual registration fee to the Department of Game and Inland Fish. At the request of Del. Walsh (D-Allegany) the proposal would require of them only the $5 fee paid by anyone else.

The game department would continue collecting these fees and would keep $3 of each of the licenses as it had done before.

Walsh said the way the act was drawn, users of Deep Creek Lake would have been paying fees totaling $8 and this would amount to double taxation.

The House Judiciary Committee meanwhile, approved bills to integrate Montrose Training School for girls and to tighten restrictions on sale of obscene literature and horror comics.

Navy Awards $1 Million Hercules Job

Indian Head Work Is ABL-Related

The Navy has announced a $1 million contract to the Hercules Powder Company for architectural and engineering services at the U. S. Naval Propellant Plant at Indian Head in the development indirectly related to Allegany Ballistics Laboratory operations at nearby Pinto.

The contract calls for the preparation of designs and specifications for structures and equipment which will provide facilities for pilot line assembly and loading of an alternate double-base propellant motor for possible use in the Polaris ballistic missile.

This new double-base propellant motor is being developed at ABL, which is operated for the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance by Hercules Powder Company.

Total cost of the program, including all equipment, is expected to be approximately $8 million.

Construction is expected to start during the latter part of 1959.

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, supplied the engineers with all available information on the lighting of the Thruway project.

The Potomac Edison Company has submitted a number of alternate plans for lighting the section from Lindernville to Maryland Avenue.

The most elaborate plan, Mayor J. Edwin Keech reported, would cost $15,000 a year for rental. It calls for the latest type of equipment and for wires to be carried through underground conduits.

Bids on the section of the Thruway from Lindernville to Maryland Avenue are expected in a few months.

Mayor Keech said city officials feel it will not be necessary to light all four and one-half miles of the Thruway but only bridges and approaches.

Glass Firm Striving For Full Production

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7 has not quite reached full production, although all departments are going full blast.

Glass company officials said they had expected to be in full production shortly following the resumption of work here earlier this week.

The firm was delayed yesterday because of the cold weather here. Heating operations were changed from gas to oil when the local gas firm made the request because gas supplies were needed for private consumers.

Driver 'Fair' After Crash

William L. (Ike) Carpenter, 33 of Cash Valley Road, was reported in "fair" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted early yesterday morning after the milk truck he was operating was struck headon by another truck on U. S. Route 40 in LaVale.

Mr. Carpenter, a driver for the Queen City Dairy, sustained a fractured left wrist, lacerations of the head, abrasions of the face, hips and thighs, and possible fractured ribs.

State Troopers J. H. Helms and J. A. Smith, identified the driver of the other vehicle as Walter W. Fearer, 26, of Friendsville, an employee of the Sterling Processing Corporation, an Oakland poultry processing firm.

Fearer was traveling west on Route 40 when he apparently lost control of his vehicle, crossed the center lane and crashed headon into the milk truck. The impact forced the milk truck onto the shoulder of the highway and turned it onto its side.

Police said Fearer was charged with failure to keep to the right of the highway.
